

Dean Nicolson To Deliver Commencement Address At Alabama College May 27

Speaker Is National President Of Phi Beta Kappa, Educator, Author, and Critic Of English Letters, Having An Impressive Record In Each Field

The national president of Phi Beta Kappa, Dean Marjorie Hope Nicolson, of Smith College, will deliver the commencement address at Alabama College May 27, according to an announcement by President Arthur Fort Harman.

Phi Beta Kappa is recognized in academic circles as the most distinguished honorary society recognizing scholarship. Before becoming president of Phi Beta Kappa, Dean Nicolson compiled an impressive record as educator, author, and critic of English letters. She is one of the country's outstanding authorities on Milton and Seventeenth Century English literature.

Her teaching career began in the public schools of Michigan twenty-five years ago. Later, as instructor in the University of Minnesota, assistant professor at Goucher College, and associate professor at Smith College, she achieved widespread recognition as a stimulating teacher of the humanities. Since 1929 she has been professor and dean of Smith College, and visiting lecturer at Johns Hopkins University and the University of Chicago.

She is the author of "The Microscope and English Imagination," "Art of Description," and "A World in the Moon" — all best sellers in their fields. She is a regular contributor to such magazines as the Atlantic Monthly, and Yale Review.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Dr. Ewart H. Wyle, pastor of the First Christian Church, Birmingham, on Sunday, May 26. A native of England, Dr. Wyle has lived in four countries where his parents were pioneer missionaries. He came to the United States in 1920, and before coming to Alabama he served on the Board of Directors of Texas Christian University, held pastorates in Pennsylvania, Kentucky, and Texas. This year he is president of the State Convention of Christian Churches of Alabama.

Seniors numbering approximately 160 will be taking part in the 1940 commencement program. This is one of the largest groups ever to be graduated from Alabama College. These girls are from every section of Alabama.

Funeral Services Held For Cecil Bunn

Cecil Bunn, age 22, former employee of the coal mine at Dogwood, died at 3 p. m. last Sunday in a Birmingham hospital after a long illness.

The body was brought to the family home at Dogwood and buried Tuesday at Ryan Cemetery. Brown-Service in charge.

Mr. Bunn was not married. He is survived by his father, John Bunn; five brothers, Fred, Eugene, Grady Kelly and Harvey; six sisters, Scott, of Virginia; Mrs. Galloway of Dogwood; Mrs. Claud Blake, of Dogwood; Miss Daisy Bunn, of Birmingham; Misses Ruth and Dorothy Bunn, of Dogwood.

Mr. Bunn worked in the mine at Dogwood until about three years ago, since which time he had been in bad health and unable to work.

Mayor Acker Commends Movement For Town Planning Institute

The Town Planning Institute in which the organizations of the town of Montevallo are cooperating on April 10-11 is one of the most promising projects which has been undertaken in Montevallo in many years. It is to be hoped that out of it will come a plan for the improvement of Montevallo to which we can all lend our support. As Mayor of the town, I wish to commend the Institute to all of our citizens and to bespeak the cooperation of every person in the town to insure success.

CHARLES T. ACKER,
Mayor.

MR. R. C. MORRISON

Partlow Speaks At Mass Meeting

Addressing a mass meeting of voters at Clanton, Alabama, Chilton County, Billy Partlow, candidate for congress from this district, promised the farmer the "he was not neutral or on both sides" of the farming issue but would fight aggressively for every program which gave promise of benefitting the farmer.

"I am for parity payments, soil conservation benefits, crop insurance and low interest farm financing," he said.

Partlow outlined a platform that called for a continuation of the "broad humanitarian" principles under which the farmer and laborer have benefitted.

Calling the attention to the fact that the South today has the lowest income of any region in the nation, Partlow pointed out that the region had been kept in "economic chains" by the powerful interest of the East through "protective tariffs and freight rate differentials." He said that he proposed to "fight with all his energy" to throw off these shackles.

Concerning education, Partlow said the the South had only one

R. C. Morrison's Views On Town Problems To Be Given During His Visit In Montevallo

Mr. R. C. Morrison, director of Holland's Southern Institute for Town Service will be in Montevallo April 10-11 to aid the townsmen in their meeting for town planning.

Montevallo is fortunate in securing the expert services of Mr. Morrison, who is a national figure in his field. A graduate of the New York State College of Forestry, where he specialized in landscape architecture and town planning. Mr. Morrison spent thirteen years as forester for Fort Worth, Texas. There he had charge of the major park construction, including the world-famous Fort Worth Botanical Gardens. He was also director of the $4,000,000 Fort Worth school-ground landscaping program.

Noted Author

Among Mr. Morrison's published works are "Let Us Go to the Park," "Suggestions for the Planting and Care of Trees and Shrubs," and "Organizing Our Town and the Town Score Card." He has also contributed many articles to leading magazines.

Mr. Morrison is a proponent of balanced town planning. He is interested in the social life of the town, believing that in a town which is alive socially there tends to be a marked decline in crime and juvenile delinquency. To such an end the town should have adequate youth organizations such as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Boy Groups of America, etc.

Camera clubs, luncheon clubs, garden groups will, according to Mr. Morrison, add to the enjoyment of the citizens. Annual events such as garden shows, paint-up campaigns, yard contests, would bring together people with similar interests and help make the town enjoyable in which to live.

Spiritual Side of Life

The spiritual side of life should not be neglected. Not only should the town have adequate churches with programs including both town improvement and world improvement, but the churches should cooperate with each other in church training school institutes, union festival services, and federated group work.

As to the economic life of the town, Mr. Morrison says that much of the trouble with the South lies in the fact that the South has failed to establish industries and to inaugurate sound methods of farming, and the the South has always looked to some outside source for help. Mr. Morrison believes we should score ourselves in the matters of labor relations, building programs, physical assets such as transportation facilities, public buildings, industrial activity, and the like.

Governmental Life of Town

A third phase of our town planning should concern itself with the governmental life of the town. Since

New College Buildings To Be Dedicated In All Day Program

Program Given For Morrison's Visit

Dixon, Comer, Collins, And Other Notables Will Speak During Day's Program

A program designed to make the fullest use of Mr. Morrison's time practically every minute during his stay in Montevallo has been outlined by the program committee for the Town Planning Institute. Discussions of projects in which the entire town should be interested will follow one another in rapid succession, and it is urged that all citizens attend as many of the meetings as possible. All meetings will be held in the Baptist Church unless otherwise specified.

The tentative schedule of meetings is as follows:

Wednesday, April 10

10 o'clock—Town Beautification.
12 o'clock—Luncheon with heads of interested organizations, Girl Scout House.

2 o'clock—High School Committee on School and Community Relations, High School Building.
4:30 o'clock—Recreation.

8 o'clock — General meeting in charge of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Thursday, April 11

9 o'clock—Time reserved for public schools.
11 o'clock — Housing and house planning.

4:30 o'clock—Town planning.
8 o'clock — General meeting in charge of Civic Club.

Time will be available on Wednesday from 3 to 4:30 and Thursday from 2 to 4:30 o'clock for additional conferences. Anyone wishing to consult with Mr. Morrison on any particular subject should see Miss Anne Eastman and make arrangements for such a conference.

The program committee consists of Dr. Anne Eastman, chairman, and representative of the Business and Professional Women's Club; Mrs. Frost, representing the P. T. A.; Mrs. LeBaron, representing D. A. R.; Miss Ackerley, representing A. A. U. W.; Dr. Vaughan, representing the Civic Club, the Methodist Church, and the Community Chest; Mr. Davis, the Presbyterian Church; Dr. Pearson, the Baptist Church; Dr. Farmer, the Town Council; Mrs. Waller, the public schools; Mrs. Tidwell, the Study Club; Mrs. Bridges and Miss Saylor, the Girl Scouts; and Dr. Jackson, the Boy Scouts and the Civic Club.

Local Students Win Honors At State Music Meeting

Youngest person to win a major post honor, Miss Margaret Bickler, age thirteen, of the Alabama College Training School was picked by Conductor Ottakar Cadek as concert Mistress and first violinist in the All State Festival Orchestra at Tuscaloosa from among high school students from over Alabama. Winning musical honors is no new thing for Margaret Bickler. It will be remembered that last year she wrote an original operetta entitled "Pharaoh's Caravan" which her fellow students in Training School produced.

Miss Eleanor Reynolds also took a major honor when she was chosen to play first oboe in this All-State Festival Orchestra by Mr. Cadek. Miss Anne Appleton won a similar honor and blue ribbon for her remarkable proficiency in playing the french horn. Mr. Cadek, who is concert master for the Birmingham Civic Symphony Orchestra, had high praise for Margaret and predicted for her a brilliant musical career. Margaret is a student of violin of York Kildea, professor of violin in the school of music of the Alabama College.

With the oratory of Governor Frank Dixon, Senator Lister Hill, Donald Comer, Superintendent of Education A. H. Collins, and Gessner McCorvey of the State Democratic Executive Committee, plus the youthful tenor voice of Nino Martini, young Metropolitan Opera star, slated on the program, Alabama College, will observe "All-State Day" when it dedicates its new buildings on Thursday, April 25.

In the extensive building program affecting the library, College Union Building, the laboratory schools of the education department, two new buildings — Julia Strudwick Tutwiler Hall, a senior dormitory, and Braxton Bragg Comer, a classroom and radio building—have been added.

According to President A. F. Harman, the day's formal program will be divided into morning, afternoon, and evening sections. On the morning program there will be an address by Donald Comer, when he will discuss the career of his father, Governor B. B. Comer, for whom Comer Hall is named. Gessner McCorvey of the State Democratic Executive Committee, a nephew of Miss Tutwiler, will speak on her long and fruitful career in Alabama public life. Also receiving recognition will be the representatives of PWA, WPA and

Hildreth Addresses Tuscaloosa Voters

State Senator Emmett Hildreth, candidate for Congress, Sixth Congressional District, fired the first major political shot in the Congressional race Saturday. His stirring address was delivered in the Tuscaloosa County court house before a crowded court room. The address was also broadcast over WJRD Radio Station, and was carried to the overflow crowd by loud speakers.

Senator Hildreth was introduced by Ralph Cross, his Tuscaloosa County campaign manager, as being generally recognized as the ablest man in the race, having the necessary experience, training and ability to give the Sixth District the representation and leadership in the national Congress now needed.

Speaking in a clear, decisive manner, Hildreth left no doubt where he stood on the major, vital issues, and challenged his opponents to state likewise their position on the issues. He also challenged his opponents to meet him in an old-fashioned debate in each county of the district. He stated, "This would prove enlightening and instructive to the people and would be of great benefit to them in determining for whom to vote. You are entitled to know the position of each candidate on the sound, fundamental principles of government, and on the issues of this race. You shall know them from me openly, clearly and without evasion."

Clearly and without evasion, he did state his position and his audience gave him attention and showed by their applause enthusiastic approval. He gave his whole hearted endorsement to the National Farm Program, with liberal parity payments, and a broad soil conservation program for the farmers. He called for the extension of crop insurance provisions to cotton farmers, and the continuation of the CCC program, particularly in connection with its conservation activities. He expressed himself strongly against war. "I gave nearly three years of my life to the service of my country, and had active overseas service. Many of my comrades were shot down, wounded,

KEEP JARMAN IN CONGRESS

While we are bombarded from all sides by arguments and "excuses" of the various candidates who want to go to Congress from the Sixth District, we urge the electorate to examine the facts of record and stick to reason and sound judgment in determining your course in this important matter.

In 1916 the great Champ Clark of Missouri, member and speaker of the House, in one of his speeches, expressed the everlasting truth about the making of Congressmen. We produce here the following excerpts from that speech:

It is a high honor to be a Representative in Congress, if only for one term, and with the number of terms the honor increases in geometrical rather than arithmetical proportion. A member's usefulness to his country should increase in the same proportion. A man has to learn to be a Representative just as he must learn to be a blacksmith, a carpenter, a farmer, an engineer, a lawyer, or a doctor.

"Poeta nascitur non fit" — a poet is born, not made — says Horace; but Congressmen—that is, useful and influential Congressmen—are made largely by experience and practice.

The old Charlotte district in Virginia knew this and kept John Randolph of Roanoke in the House till he became a great national figure. Then the Old Dominion sent him to the Senate, and General Jackson sent him to St. Petersburg. There are sporadic cases of similar action in other districts.

It is an unwise performance for any district to change Representatives at short intervals. A new Congressman must begin at the foot of the class and spell up. Of course, the more brains, tact, energy, courage, and industry he has the quicker he will get up. If he possesses these qualities, and if his constituents will keep him in the House, he is certain to rise as the sparks are to fly upward. No human power can keep him down. It is only fair and rational to assume that every Representative's constituents desire to see him among the "top-notchers."

No man should be elected to the House simply to gratify his ambition. All members should be elected for the good of the country.

The best rule, it seems to me, is for a district to select a man with at least fair capacity, industrious, honest, energetic, sober, and courageous, and keep him here so long as he discharges his duties faithfully and well. Such a man will gradually rise to high position and influence in the House. His wide acquaintance with members helps him amazingly in doing things.

I can speak freely on this subject without violating the proprieties, for my constituents have kept me here 22 years, and for 20 years have given me the nominations without opposition, for all of which favors I thank them from the bottom of my heart. Their generous action and unwavering friendship have enabled me to devote all my time to the public service. I have not been compelled to spend any portion of my time in "mending my fences." My constituents have attended to that. God bless them.

Predicating his remarks upon these words of Speaker Clark, Congressman Robert Ramspeck, of Georgia, recently expressed the following interesting observation of the service and accomplishments of Congressman Jarman:

"Of course, there is one outstanding and very unusual exception to this rule, but it is always the exception which proves the rule. The distinguished gentleman from Alabama, Mr. Jarman, who is now serving in only his fourth year, accomplished the heretofore unheard of feat of becoming chairman of the Memorials Committee when the first committee assignments were announced during the first few weeks of his service. As he commenced his second term, he relinquished that chairmanship to become chairman of the more important Committee on Printing. He is also vice chairman of the very important Joint Committee on Printing. There is no comparison between the lengths of service of this outstanding legislator and those of the older members of this House who occupy those exalted positions."

It appears to us as solid reasoning and sound judgment for the Sixth District now to take the advice of Champ Clark and keep Pete Jarman in Congress.

TOWN PLANNING INSTITUTE

Montevallo is a small town and its citizens are glad that it is a small town, for it affords many advantages and opportunities which no city could give. It has room for children; it offers every man and woman an opportunity to share in its activities; it offers permanency and democracy; it offers opportunity for cooperation. And this opportunity puts upon its citizens a heavy responsibility. If they are to make the best use of all these advantages, there must be cooperation between the town and the college, between these and the churches, between the people of the town and those of the surrounding country, cooperation in government, and in all phases of economic activity.

In the past this cooperation has not always been as fully realized as it might have been. Next week, the citizens of Montevallo are joining the Business and Professional Women's Club in the Town Planning Institute in an effort to work out better means for bringing about this cooperation which is the foundation of the happiness and prosperity of the entire community. It is the duty and privilege of every citizen to take part in this institute and help to make it a success.

POST OFFICE REVENUE UP

The quarter ending March 31 was the biggest in history of Montevallo post office in point of revenue, according to a statement made by post master R. A. Reid this week. "We ordinarily think of the last quarter in the year, which includes Christmas, as our biggest business period," he said, "but this years first quarter has broken all past records."

STUDY CLUB MEETS

The Montevallo Study club held its March meeting last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. D. Jackson, with Mrs. Kennerly as joint hostess. Miss Tidwell presided at the business meeting. The yearly reports from officers and the committee chairmen showed a satisfactory and worthwhile year's work. The following officers were elected for another club year:

Mrs. W. F. Tidwell, president; Mrs. E. D. Reynolds, vice-president; Mrs. M. L. Orr, secretary; Mrs. J. P. Kelly, treasurer; Mrs. E. H. Wills, parliamentarian; Mrs. W. J. Kennerly, reporter. The program for the afternoon consisted of two interesting book reviews. Mrs. L. C. Parnell discussed "Children of God," Mrs. W. L. Gravlee discussed "The American Way."

A social hour was enjoyed by sixteen members and one guest.

W. D. (Billy) PARTLOW, JR.

There are certain fundamental principles underlying our democracy. One of the most important of these is that the purpose of government is to secure the greatest good for the greatest number. In an effort to fulfill that purpose, I shall actively and aggressively advocate the following:

For Agriculture

Favorable trade agreements, removal of discriminatory freight rates and the removal of tariff burdens will eventually produce a parity between industry and agriculture. Until this is accomplished, I favor payment of subsidies to the farmers to achieve 100 per cent parity. I shall favor crop insurance, low cost financing for farmers, the soil conservation program, and continued support of the federal program for agriculture.

For Education

I advocate federal aid for education in the form of substantial grants to states in proportion to the need, but these funds must be administered by our state government without federal supervision or control.

For the Veterans

It is necessary that we take steps to insure benefits for disabled or indigent veterans and veterans' widows and orphans. I advocate legislation placing the burden on the government to prove that a veteran's disability is not service connected rather than placing the burden on the disabled veteran to prove that his disability is service connected.

For the Nation as a whole

War has no place as an instrument of national policy. I favor the maintenance of adequate defensive armament to insure peace for this nation.

These excerpts from my platform are intended to show briefly some of the principles for which I shall fight as your Congressman

I earnestly solicit your vote and influence

MIRACLE OF COTTON FILMED IN COLOR

"THREADS OF A NATION" FOLLOWS COTTON FROM FIELDS TO FASHIONS

THE miracle of cotton from the fleecy white bolls on the Southern plantation to milady's latest fashions, has just been filmed in natural color and is being released to motion picture theatres throughout the country. It is called "The Threads of a Nation."

The ten minute reel depicts not only the magic transformation of cotton from raw material to queenly raiment, but also shows the historical growth of the immense cotton empire of the South upon which millions of persons depend for livelihood.

Featured are the intricate machines—ginning, weaving, dyeing and printing—whose almost human ingenuity and artist's genius clothe the nation. The picture is the life story of personal garments and useful fabrics, first blooming in colorful fields, then spun into endless threads, woven into fetching patterns, dyed with beautiful colors and printed in gay designs. So far flung are the processes of cotton manufacture that it took nearly six months to make this ten minute "short."

Popular in treatment throughout, "The Threads of a Nation" is the first of a series of screen entertainments recording the cultural and economic attainments of the cotton textile industry during the past few decades. The film gives a background for a clear understanding of cotton's essential usefulness to the consumer and the economic significance of one of America's basic commodities.

Debate Team Returns From Invasion North of the Ohio River

The Alabama College debating team, accompanied by its coach, Professor J. H. Henning, has returned from a 2,000 mile debate trip which carried it on an invasion north of the Ohio river during which it engaged teams at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio; Wayne University, Detroit, Mich. Wittenburg College, Springfield, Ohio; Georgetown College, Georgetown, Kentucky; Tennessee Wesleyan, Athens, Tennessee; and Berea College, in Kentucky, and the University of Tennessee.

Making the trip were, Miss Sara Rumbley, a freshman from Drewry; Miss Sara Peck Weaver, Decatur, a sophomore; Miss Yenna York, Montroeville, a junior; Miss Annie Mae Paulk, Union Springs, a senior; and Miss Christine Griffin, Lineville, a junior.

The girls concluded their strenuous schedule of debates when they engaged in the National Pi Kappa Delta tournament, held at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, March 24-30, where they won decisions in five of their eight contests. In many ways the 1940 debate season for the Alabama College students has been the most successful they have ever enjoyed. On their home campus in Montevallo they have debated Carson-Newman College, Presbyterian College, Washington and Jefferson University, the University of Alabama, Mississippi State College for Women, as well as teams from other schools.

Within recent years the Alabama College debate team and its extempore speakers have won one national championship, one provincial championship and a championship in impromptu speaking. Because debate is one of the major extracurricular activities, the teams have traveled more than 12,000 miles in 22 states, taking part in tournaments in Houston, Texas; Gainesville, Florida; Rock Hill, South Carolina; Topeka Kansas; and Knoxville, Tennessee. They have won three-fourths of their contests.

Christine Griffin, Lineville, Alabama, junior at Alabama College, was chosen as one of the six students in the Southern Province of Pi Kappa Delta to represent that province in the National Student Congress held at Knoxville, Tennessee, March 25-30. Southern province includes the states of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, and Alabama. She also entered contest in Oratory and Extempore Speaking at the National Pi Kappa Delta Tournament held in Knoxville at the same time.

Professor Henning served as a member of the Men's Extempore Speaking Contest Committee and a member of the Committee on Constitutional Revision for the national Tournament of Pi Kappa Delta, the national forensic fraternity.

Health Notes Concerning the Handling and Use of Milk

Milk is our most perfect food. It contains all the food elements and some of the most important vitamins and minerals.

Every growing child should have at least one quart of milk daily and every adult at least one pint.

Unless milk is properly handled at the dairy and in the home it can be a carrier of a number of very serious diseases. Disease germs grow very rapidly in milk if the milk is not properly cared for.

In supervised Grade A dairies the milk-barn has to meet certain requirements in regard to construction, window space, drainage, cleanliness, fly control methods, etc.

It is required that the cows be washed with a stream of water and brush and the udder be washed with an antiseptic solution and to be dried before each milking. The milker too is required to wear clean washable clothing and wash his hands in antiseptic solution and to dry them before milking.

The milk is removed immediately to the screened milk house where it is cooled to below 50 degrees.

It is kept at or below this temperature until delivered, being kept on ice in the delivery truck.

Washing equipment must be provided and after milking utensils and other equipment and milk bottles are thoroughly washed they are sterilized by steam and properly stored until used again.

No person who is ill in any way should be allowed to milk or handle the equipment. Typhoid, dysentery, other intestinal infections, septic sore throat and scarlet fever are only a few of the diseases that are transmitted by milk.

If a cow has lost a calf (aborted) her milk should never be used until she has been examined by a veterinarian as she may be suffering of Bang's disease and may transmit undulant fever to anyone who drinks the milk.

Pasteurizing milk will kill most all of the dangerous disease germs and it is safer, even though milk is produced in a Grade A dairy, if it is pasteurized.

When milk is delivered to the home, it should be immediately placed in the refrigerator; the top of the bottle should be washed and dried before using and it should be kept covered after removing any of it.

Card Of Thanks

In this manner we wish to express our thanks and appreciation to many friends and loved ones for kindness shown during illness and death of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Missouri Aldrich Northcutt.

She leaves to mourn the loss a husband, five children and a host of friends.

We sorrow not as those who have no hope, for she was anxious to go to her heavenly home. —Frankie N. Lucas, daughter; Lillie Belle Lucas, grand daughter.

HERE'S WHERE I STAND

Where Do You Stand, Mr. Jarman }
Where Do You Stand, Mr. Partlow } If Anywhere?

(My Campaign Speech Delivered At Tuscaloosa Courthouse, March 30, 1940).

I first registered as a voter and voted for the first time in Tuscaloosa County. Since then, I have lived and have actively been engaged in the practice of law at Eutaw. You have been, and are my friends and neighbors. The ties existing between us have been close and strong. During the three terms which I have served in the State Senate of Alabama, Dr. Partlow, Dr. Denny, Dr. Foster, Judge Foster, and many other leaders of Tuscaloosa have called on me for help for the institution, or for the cause in which they were interested, and in each instance it has been my pleasure and privilege to respond with active, aggressive support for them. No one could be more interested in, or more anxious to promote the welfare of Tuscaloosa and its citizenship than I am. So I feel justified under these facts in referring to you and claiming you as my friends and neighbors, and when you vote for me you will be voting for a friend and neighbor who is intensely interested in you and your welfare.

The details of my life and of my public career are well known to most of you. If you do not know me or that for which I have stood in my private and public life, I would refer you to the good people of Greene County—my home county—who have always given me their unhesitating support and loyalty.

You are entitled to know my position on the sound, fundamental principles of government, and on the issues of this race. You shall know them from me openly, clearly and without evasion.

OUR FARMERS MUST HAVE HELP

The most important problem now facing the people of our district is the restoration of our farming population to a position of economic security and economic independence. They have formed the bedrock of our civilization, and they are entitled to receive such help and assistance from our National Government as will restore to them their purchasing power and economic security. To this end I advocate and shall aggressively support the National Farm Plan with liberal parity payments and a broad soil conservation program. It is only by such help that our farmers can live. What we have received has helped very much but it has not been parity. That is, the help given to the farmer has not been such as to place him upon an economic parity with other groups of our population. He has received only partial parity. The wheat and corn and oat farmers of the North have been given considerable advantage over our cotton farmers of the South.

They have received more nearly parity than we have. Just why, country we have been blessed with two great oceans, one to the east and one to the west of us, and with a friendly people to the north and to the south of us. Thus we have had protection for our country. But the time has come with the rapidity of transportation and the long distance which bombing planes can fly when our land must be protected against every possible attack.

War Leaves No Victor—I Oppose It

I am against war. I gave nearly three years of my life to the service of my country, and had active overseas service. Many of my comrades were shot down, wounded, gassed, maimed, blinded and some of them paid the supreme sacrifice with their lives. I don't want to ever see that again, nor do I want it to come to my son nor to my sons' sons. The sacrifice is too great. War leaves no victor; only death and destruction and loss and suffering and sacrifice follow in its wake. So I say, millions for defense of our country, but not one penny for any foreign war. Our country must, under all circumstances, keep out of foreign wars, entanglements and alignments.

I favor federal aid for our schools, but strictly under State control and regulation. We must at all times retain our State and local control of and supervision over our schools. I am unalterably opposed to federal aid for our schools if it means the sacrifice of this control and supervision by our State and local governments. More than one-half of the wealth of the nation is centered in the three states of New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The great corporations, insurance companies and associations, stock and commodity exchanges, and financial institutions of our nation are for the most part located in one of those states, and they draw their very life blood from the other states.

August 31st, 1939, in speaking of my bill and my action relating thereto, says: "For this—we think Mr. Hildreth deserves great credit". I am sure they would not have said that had I been unfriendly to labor.

I have heard the rumor, undoubtedly put out by my political enemies, to the effect that if I am elected to the National Congress, I will endeavor to pass through Congress a bill similar to the one which I introduced in the State Senate. My friends, I said when I introduced my bill, and also when I withdrew and dismissed my bill, and at all times during the consideration thereof, that I had in mind only the desire to be of real service to the sound, democratic labor organizations. I meant that.

I am not given to making senseless statements, and when I became convinced from a very careful study of labor's set-up and of the several organizations thereof, that the purpose sought in my bill could not be obtained without working serious hardship or injury upon them, I took the only action that a fair-minded person could take, and that is, dismissed my bill. That was fair-minded. It took courage to do it, but it was right and I did it. And I here and now give my pledge to labor that I have no thought or purpose of sponsoring or supporting such a measure should I be elected to Congress. My word has always been my bond, and those who know me accept it without qualification.

What About The Veterans Hospital?

I believe in liberal treatment of the veterans and their dependent widows and orphans. Such a policy is just, sound, and universally approved by our people.

While Buck Oliver was Congressman this district was fortunate enough to secure the Veteran's Hospital and we all rejoiced. However, unfortunately for us in this district, this hospital, as far as general use of the feeder, or county roads, so that the farmer may have a way to get his commodities to market. To this end the Federal Government should adopt and maintain a liberal policy to aid in the construction and maintenance of such roads.

WPA, relief and farm work should be so coordinated so that labor will always be available at the time and place when and as needed. We have ample labor, but frequently when the farmer needs labor most, he is unable to get it because those on relief prefer to receive and keep their small relief help rather than perform honest labor for what they receive. I don't want to see anyone starving or naked or needy for the essentials of life, but I do want, so far as is possible, for everyone receiving help to perform some service for it.

I take my stand against dictatorship of every kind. I am unalterably opposed to all foreign "isms", such as Communism, Nazism and Facism, and I say in unequivocal terms to all those in our country who believe in and advocate these things, that they should go to Russia, Germany or Italy or wherever they desire and leave good American citizens alone.

We have had one dictatorship in the United States. That was in Louisiana under the Long regime, and the American people drew a deep sigh of relief when that dictatorship was ended. We hope and pray that never again will such a dictatorship come to the people of this great land.

I have aggressively and actively fought against waste and extravagance in governmental affairs, and for economy and efficiency, and against graft and corruption in public office.

On the other hand, I have sponsored and aggressively supported legislation for the support of our schools and for all necessary islature, a bill which gave to the schools of Alabama nearly one million dollars from the surplus income tax fund. Some of the best legal minds in Alabama said that this could not be done. But I thought that it could and should be done, and I did not stop until final success was obtained.

Four Years—And He Has Failed

One of my opponents in this race is the present incumbent. He has had nearly four years in which to render real service to the people of his district. If I am any judge of the sentiment of the people, it would appear beyond question that they feel that he has failed to render to and for them during this period the service to which they are justly entitled. We do not doubt his good intentions, but the fact remains that the results so needed by our people have not been obtained. He has had his opportunity. He has failed, and the people are determined to have a change.

Another one of my opponents is a man with a distinguished record in the Spanish-American War and in the World War, and for him I have only the warmest affection and highest regard.

Do You Want An Untrained Man?

My other opponent is a young man, 32 years old, the son of a distinguished father, and without training or experience in any legislative or public capacity. Let me ask you this simple question? If you were going to take a ride in an airplane, would you go up with an untrained, or unseasoned pilot? Surely not!

If you were going to take a trip on one of our great railroads, would you ride in a train if you knew that the man at the throttle was a green, unseasoned man who did not know the signals or the road-bed, or who had never pulled his train that way? Surely not! If you

"By their works ye shall know them."

Faith, Hope and Charity have carried the American people through the great sacrifices and struggles which have brought them down to this day. We need faith as never before. We need hope. Our people need vision and above all, we need charity—love for our fellowman.

The milk of human kindness and every humanitarian principle makes us sympathetic with the pitiful plight of one who has come to old age and is in need. My heartfelt sympathy goes out to those so unfortunately situated. Our government should be as liberal with them as our economic condition will permit. I feel that we in the South have failed and will continue to fail to receive or obtain the benefits to which we are justly entitled from the humanitarian program of our federal government because of the inability of the state and local governments in the South to match the federal funds, as are required to obtain this help for our people. It is my judgment that the federal government should contribute the major portion for these services, and not require such a large portion thereof to be contributed by the State and local government. We in the South are not able to contribute so much as the States in the North and East, and the result is that those of the North and East receive much more liberal support than our people in the South. Thus we lose much that we should have. I shall sponsor and aggressively support legislation that will correct this situation and do justice to our people.

My Challenge To Debate

The people are entitled to know the position of each candidate on the issues of this campaign. I favor and would like to see and participate in an old-fashioned debate between the candidates in each county

Brooding Is Important In Poultry Raising

Auburn, Ala. — To "cheep" and eat seems to be the order of business for young chicks, but John E. Ivey, extension poultryman of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, believes the poultryman should add another word to this rhyme by providing heat.

Brooding, says Ivey, is the most important phase of poultry raising and it is in this that most of the unsuccessful poultrymen first get into trouble. If chicks can be given a good start in life, most of the trouble is over, unless of course, disease sets in or the chickens starve to death.

Ivey goes on to say that most large poultrymen have provided brooding equipment to get the chicks through the first weeks. It is the small flock owner with from 50 to 200 chicks that usually does not provide good brooding equipment and therefore runs into losses from exposure and overcrowding. During March, when most chicks are purchased or hatched, is the time that good brooders pay dividends.

He lists a number of inexpensive brooders which might be used, such as the homemade lamp, the brick and the featherboard brooder. Either of these can be used with a minimum of expense for construction and operation.

The homemade lamp brooder is designed to fill the needs on farms with 50 or less chicks. It costs around $5 to $7, can be constructed in a short time at home, and is heated by an ordinary kerosene lamp.

Plans and bills of material for this brooder or for the others mentioned can be obtained from the county agent's office or from Mr. Ivey at Auburn. Start off right in poultry by preventing early losses from death of chicks, are Mr. Ivey's parting words.

Farmers Warned Of Undulant Fever

Auburn, Ala.—A warning to Alabama farmers concerning the danger of contracting undulant fever during the spring calving and farrowing season is issued by Dr. I. S. MacAdory, dean of the school of veterinary medicine.

"The same germ which causes Bang's disease in swine and cattle causes undulant fever in human beings — and there is danger of farmers contracting the malady while assisting infected cows in calving or sows at farrowing time," the warning declares. "The germ may enter through even a slight cut or wound in the skin. Farmers having abrasions or scratches on their hands or arms, through which the germs may enter, should use either rubber gloves or a dependable disinfectant of a type recommended by their veterinarian."

A new variety of cane, especially adapted for chewing and resistant to mosaic, has been developed by the Bureau of Plant Industry. The new variety is designated "C. P. 31/511."

Fifty Million Dollars In Public Works For State of Alabama

Completion of 15 public works will wind up a seven-year Public Works Administration program which has brought to Alabama 425 public improvements with a total value of 50 million dollars, Regional Director Harry A. Wortham announced today.

On most of the projects only finishing touches remain to signal cessation on construction activity. Only two works — the vehicular tunnel at Mobile, and the county hospital at Birmingham—were less than half completed.

"Approximately four and three-quarters million dollars worth of work must be done, and the bulk of it is in either Birmingham or Mobile," Wortham said.

Three hundred and thirty works were made possible by federal aid to cities, counties or the state where the improvements are owned and located. Only 10 remain to be finished. They include: Harbor improvements in Mobile, a hospital at Tuscaloosa, university buildings at Auburn, an electric distribution system in Fort Payne, and college buildings at Montevallo.

"Ninety-five projects were built on federal property with government paying full costs. Only one-half million dollars worth remains to be done on five of the improvements," Wortham said.

In retrospect he said that thousands of jobs had been provided in private industry by PWA activity. Workers on construction sites received an average hourly wage of $1.12 in the skilled trades and $35 for common labor.

"PWA's program has in addition to construction every type of public improvement erected public works within the confines of nearly every county in the state," he said.

Public works built in Alabama include schools, water and sewerage systems, electric distribution lines, public buildings, highways, hospitals, docks, and the Bankhead Tunnel now being built at Mobile.

Montevallo Women Attend Convention

Dr. Anne Eastman, Dr. Minnie L. Steckel, Dr. Hallie Farmer, Mrs. Lena Jeter, Mrs. Bessie Merle Elliott, Miss Ethel Reasoner, and Miss Lowery Turner attended the Fourth District meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Tutwiler Hotel in Birmingham last Saturday, March 30.

At a banquet meeting on Saturday evening, Mrs. Anne Gary Pannell of Tuscaloosa was guest speaker. Mrs. Pannell is a graduate of Oxford University, England, and was formerly a member of the faculty of Alabama College. She spoke on "Recent World Events and Their Effect on the Status of Women."

Dr. Steckel, as state vice-president, Dr. Eastman, as president of the Montevallo club, and Dr. Farmer, as state program coordination chairman, are members of the state executive board of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Feed production, especially pastures, is rapidly being developed in Alabama. F. W. Burns, dairyman of the Extension Service at Auburn, believes some good livestock, like dairy cattle, can provide a much better market for this feed than the farmer will ever find in town.

May 31 is the final date for filing applications for payments under the 1939 AAA conservation program.

Miss Worley is the newly elected state president of the Alabama Geography Council, a section of the A. E. A.

State Farmers Busy Treating Cottonseed

Auburn, Ala. — As never before, Alabama farmers are treating their 1940 planting cottonseed with mercury dust.

"This practice is paying cotton growers and paying them well," says J. C. Lowery, extension agronomist, in advising that "experience throughout the state for the past three years shows that much better stands are obtained where the treatment is used."

Some excellent results were obtained from treated seed last year. For example, Calhoun County farmers obtained almost perfect stands from treated seed compared with very poor stands from untreated seed. In Geneva County it was necessary to destroy eight rows planted to untreated seed. The remainder of the large field was planted in treated seed and had a good stand.

"Oil mills, gins, seed houses and cooperatives have installed machinery and many farmers have made their own barrel machines for applying the seed treatments," he says in advising farmers to use good seed and the correct materials. "Otherwise, money will be wasted and other losses incurred."

Treated seed or cottonseed products from treated seed should not be fed to livestock. The material is very poisonous, therefore, the treated seed should be disposed of in such a way as to avoid consumption by animals or crushing by oil mills.

GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scouts Announce National Song Contest

A prize of $200 is being offered for an original song suitable for use by members of the Girl Scout organization, by Mrs. Arthur Osgood Choate, of Pleasantville, New York, honorary vice-president of the Girl Scouts.

Open to all, whether connected with Girl Scouting or not, the contest provides that the words must be original. The tune may be any well known melody or folk song. Words and music of the prize song, whose characteristics should be strength and vitality, will become the property of Girl Scouts, Inc. No manuscripts will be acknowledged or returned.

Entries should be sent to the Girl Scout Contest, Girl Scouts, Inc., 14 West 49th Street, New York, N. Y., and should be accompanied by a signed statement concerning the originality of words and music. Collaboration is permissible but each song will be judged as a whole, and must be submitted in one name only. The contest will close April 1, 1941.

Further information is available from Girl Scout national headquarters in New York City.

Brownies

The Brownies met at the Scout House March 27. They couldn't play any active games because the Scouts were going to have a tea the next day, and wanted the house kept nice. So they played quiet games. Miss Bonner was their leader because Mrs. Hood had gone to a club meeting. They had a good time.

Troop 6

Troop 6 had several members absent from our last meeting, but we know they will be back in school and ready for the next meeting.

We have planned to work on our regular assignments before the next meeting so that we can all pass our tenderfoot tests very soon. We are looking forward to dramatizing some of our activities at our next meeting.

Troop 3

The Girl Scouts of Troop 3 gave their mothers a lovely tea Thursday afternoon, March 2. It was given at the Little House at 3:30 o'clock. Delicious refreshments were served which were enjoyed by all.

The guests present were Mesdames J. F. Baker, L. W. Wooten, George Howell, J. L. Appleton, J. P. Thomas, T. Bridges, A. E. Baumgartner, E. H. Scroggin, W. L. Gravlee, W. J. Kennerly, S. C.

Chamblee, P. D. Pendleton, A. W. Vaughan.

The hostesses were the girls who were working and had finished the hostess badge. They were Alice Creel, Joyce Farlow, Joyce Baker, Margaret Kennerly, Catherine Bridges, Una Faye Davis, Sue Chamblee, and Dorothy Thomas.

We want to express our appreciation to Miss Betty LeBaron for helping us with the hostess badge, and with the tea. We have had fun working with her.

Troop 2

The Girl Scouts of Troop 2 had a party on April 1 at their regular meeting. Mary Jean Kennerly's and Sara Henry Reynolds' patrols planned the games; Peggy Davis' patrol planned the refreshments.

Miss Ribble and the following girls were present: Julia Rogan, Sara Henry Reynolds, Peggy Davis, Edine Sellers, Tootsie Clayton, Mary Jean Kennerly, Frances Woods, Alice Ray Clemmons, Ann Davis, Edna Wells, Virginia Barnes, Sarah Barr, and Dama Wills.

Farmers Urged Not To Overplant

Auburn, Ala. — Alabama farmers are urged by the state AAA Committee to plant within their cotton acreage allotments and prevent unnecessary loss to themselves and to their fellow farmers.

Overplanting acreage allotments has the following results:

1. Either the overplanting producer forfeits all of his cotton price adjustment payments, computed at the rate of 1.55 cents per pound on his normal per acre yield for each acre of his allotment or,
2. In disposing of excess cotton acreage he loses the fertilizer, labor, and usually the use of the land since it is too late to plant other crops.
3. If he disposes of excess acreage, he causes a reduction in all payments to the county, since funds for rechecking his farm for compliance are deducted from the total county payments.

A. W. Jones, state administrative officer, believes that the 25 per cent of Alabama producers who overplanted last year did so because they were trying to plant their complete allotments in order to earn full payments or to prevent their allotments from being reduced this year.

"It is not necessary that the complete allotment be planted to earn full payments and prevent a reduction in the allotment, except in the case of growers planting cotton for the first time this year," Jones stated. "Old producers may plant as little as half their allotments and still earn full payment and maintain their allotments."

April 15 Last Day To File Worksheets

Auburn, Ala.—April 15 will be the last day for Alabama farmers to file work sheets for farms coming under the agricultural conservation program, announces A. W. Jones, AAA administrative officer.

"Farms which were not covered by work sheets in 1937, 1938, and 1939, must have them this year if their operators are to share in the 1940 agricultural conservation payments," Jones says.

The closing date for a farmer to file a request for reconstitution of a farm is March 31. Jones said no requests for "combinations" or "splits" after that date will be acceptable.

COTTON GINNING REPORT

Census report shows that 4,144 bales of cotton were ginned in Shelby County from the crop of 1939, as compared with 5,592 bales for the crop of 1938, according to Gordon Mooney, special agent of the Bureau of the Census.

Club Women Feature All-Cotton Dresses

Clothing leaders from the Home Demonstration Clubs met in the Leadership Hall last Thursday for first instructions in launching the Cotton House Dress or All-Purpose Dress Revue. The purpose of this project is to stimulate more interest in the good-looking, well-tailored type of cotton dress that may be worn for shopping, club meetings and church, as well as the around the house dress.

The dress revue will be held at the June Home Demonstration Club meeting. Each contestant will wear an all cotton dress which she has made. Every club member is eligible to enter the club dress revue. The three highest scorers will enter the state revue at Farmers' Week.

The following clothing leaders have been appointed to give instructions on pattern alteration, fitting and construction at call club meetings:

Mrs. W. E. Garrett, Caldis; Mrs. C. A. Payne, Camp Branch; Mrs. Farris George, Dunnavant; Mrs. Fred Johnson, Ebenezer; Mrs. R. V. Brown, Four-Mile; Mrs. C. B. Blankenship, Green Acres; Mrs. Lee Davis, Kingdom; Mrs. Frank Wyatt, Klein.

Do You Know That It Would Take A HALF-TON OF Candles to produce the amount of light used monthly by the average American family?

A half-ton of candles would cost $346.65. Cost of electric light* for one family, receiving service from Alabama Power Company, averages less than $1.50* a month.

*Lighting only. Cost of other electric service correspondingly low.

—Adv. Ala. Power Co.

article appearing in the Montgomery Advertiser under date of Tuesday, March 19th, Mr. Jarman endeavors to make an explanation of his failure to vote for the farm parity bill last year. He says that he was busy doing something else while this bill was being debated upon the floor of the House of Representatives, and that he was not wasting his time listening to the dull debates thereon, and that he was in his office attending to the details brought up by one of his constituents who was visiting Washington.

MR. JARMAN'S LAME EXPLANATION

My friends, that appears to me as being a rather lame explanation. Was the detail brought up by one of his constituents more important to the people of his district than his support of the parity bill? Was it not his duty to be on the floor listening to and engaging in the debates on the bill, representing his people and looking after their interest? May I ask what was the purpose for which he was sent to Washington? Was it to attend to legislative matters, or was it for the purpose of devoting his time and attention to details for which he is provided an ample staff? It is not unfair to conclude that either Mr. Jarman was not interested in what happened to the farmers, or that he was more interested in attending to a detail which should have been left with the office staff than he was to attending to the business of the district as a whole.

I understand that Mr. Jarman is now attempting to confuse the issue by insisting that he voted for the parity bill this year. That is not the question. The question is where and what was he doing when the parity bill last year came up for passage. Also, I would like to call your attention to the fact that the parity bill up for passage this year contains appropriations about 20% under the amount appropriated last year. In other words, the Senate Bill carries a total appropriation of $923,000,000, while the amount appropriated for the current fiscal year—last year—was $1,185,000,000. Thus we see that the present appropriation is $262,000,000 less than the last one.

For more than one hundred fifty years we have been paying tribute to the industrial North and East. We have paid this tribute on each article of clothing that we wear, and upon every farm implement and upon every household article. It is called tariff. But it does not make any difference what name you give it, it is tribute just the same, and the life blood of the South has thus been drawn into and has enriched the North and East. So it is only fair and just that some help be contributed by those rich industrial areas to our Southern farmers and to the restoration of their economic independence and security. That is just and that is right.

Our Soil Conservation Program must be continued and broadened. The fertility and productivity of our lands must be restored, and the aid which we are now receiving for these purposes must be enlarged and continued.

I favor the continuation of the civilian conservation corps program, and particularly in connection with the conservation activities thereof. This program has helped train our American youth and has helped instill in them many of the sound fundamental principles upon which our government was created, and through which it has grown great. Our youth must be well and soundly trained. Also, the conservation activities of the civilian conservation corps have restored large areas of our lands, stopped soil erosion, and assisted in the drainage of our swamp lands, and aided in flood control. All of this is good, sound service.

I Favor Cotton Crop Insurance

The crop insurance provisions should be made applicable to cotton farmers. If the cotton farmers had had the benefit of this crop insurance last year many millions of dollars would have been saved to the people of the South. The wheat farmer had the protection of these provisions last year. Why, may I ask, were they not made applicable also to the Southern farmers?

Why did we not receive the benefit and protection from these laws the same as our richer farmers to the North and East, who did not need this protection nearly so much as we needed them. Someone went to sleep at the switch. Someone failed the people of the South. If this fight had been made aggressively for our Southern farmers, surely the privilege of the crop insurance would have been extended to them.

I favor an adequate national defense. Our country must be adequately protected against any aggressor nation. During the life of our are entitled to a fair chance for education with good schools, good equipment and all other essential requirements for a balanced educational system. That is their rightful inheritance. So I deem it fair and right that the federal government contribute to the support of our schools, but such contributions must at all times be without any strings or restrictions and such funds must be expended under our State and local control and supervision.

I Favor A Liberal Labor Policy

I favor a liberal labor policy. The rights of labor to organize and bargain collectively have long been recognized as fundamentally sound and democratic. A strong, vigorous, democratic labor movement is an element of strength in the life of our democracy, and should be supported. My attitude toward labor and labor's problems has always been friendly and sympathetic. I believe that I understand and appreciate more fully than any candidate in the race for Congress from our district the struggle that labor has had in past years to attain its present favorable position. Labor is to be congratulated and commended for this excellent progress.

I sought to be of service to the sound, democratic labor organizations such as are embodied in the American Federation of Labor and in the Railroad Brotherhoods, in their battle with the CIO, and to that end introduced the bill in the Senate which has been so widely misunderstood and misconstrued by labor. I did this from a patriotic sense of duty, and had the courage and fair-mindedness to withdraw and dismiss my bill when I saw that the end I sought could not be attained without injury to some of the organizations that I sought to help.

My purpose in the introduction of my bill was clearly stated and clearly understood at the time of the introduction thereof, and I am glad to say that the democratic leaders of leaders of labor in Alabama have been kind, sincere, and generous in their praise of my position and for my efforts in behalf of sound, democratic labor organizations. The Alabama State Federation of Labor News Letter dated no uncertain terms, why this was permitted to happen. Why our Congressman—the present incumbent—failed to block this move. This is a serious loss to us, and one which we can ill-afford. Surely an active, aggressive fight for the retention of this hospital, as now located, would have been productive of good results. So far as I know, and as appears from the records, no such fight was made in behalf of our district. Why was it not made? The people are entitled to know.

In order that our district may not lose all of the fruits from the establishment of the hospital at Tuscaloosa, I shall sponsor and aggressively support a movement for the retention of adequate hospital facilities for this district at the present veteran's hospital. This is very important, and in my judgment, such a fight under aggressive leadership should save that much for us.

I favor the continuation and extension of the reciprocal trade agreements in order that our surplus commodities may be disposed of, thereby promoting a better price level for our farm production. This is essential to our welfare.

Freight rates on all articles and commodities should be fair and equal, and to this end I shall aggressively support legislation doing away with all discrimination against the South in the present freight rate structure. There is no reason or excuse why an article or commodity shipped from Alabama to the North or East should bear a higher freight rate—sometimes twice as much—as the freight rate on the same article shipped from the same point from the North or East to the South. Such discrimination gives the North and East an unfair advantage over the producer and shipper from the South. It is unfair. It is unjust, and I shall fight with all the power that lies within me against such injustice to the South.

Federal Aid For Highways

We must have liberal federal aid for the construction and maintenance of our highways, roads and bridges. I am particularly interested at this time not only in the construction and maintenance of our through highways but even more so in the construction and maintenance taxes when they know that they will receive 100% value for every tax dollar. But they are opposed and strongly resent efforts to place tax burdens upon them when they do not feel that the money will be spent for worthwhile purposes: I am in accord with these ideas.

Individual Initiative And Private Property

This country was founded upon the fundamental principle of individual initiative, and private property. These are the principles which made this country great. They are fundamentally sound and we should vigorously support them. My philosophy of government may be summed up in this humble ditty story. Uncle Tom was asked one day down at the cross roads store during the dark days of the depression, how he would lick the depression. He said, "Well boss, it's like the golf game. It only takes three putts to lick it. Putt your faith in God, putt your corn in the barn, and putt your folks in the field." Now, my friends, there is much truth and much food for thought in that simple story. We have become unfortunately, to some considerable extent, a people who want something for nothing. That is fundamentally wrong, and no nation can continue for long upon such a theory. We must fight, we must work, we must sacrifice and we must struggle in order to obtain the necessary and essential things of life. In no other way can we honestly get them.

My recollection is that in Holy Writ we find a quotation which reads something like this, "By their works ye shall know them." I am making this race for Congress, based upon my proven record, my demonstrated capacity for public service, my experience, my training, and my knowledge of the needs and problems of the people of this district. I am willing and do stand unequivocally upon that record, which is well known to most of you. You know that I have been an active and aggressive leader for good legislation throughout the three terms of my Senate career. It is within your recent memory, that last year when our schools were about to close, that I sponsored, and succeeded in passing through the leg-most important thing that we have in our life is that of our Government. It far transcends any airplane ride, any trip on the railroad, any business or institution within the land, because upon its preservation and action depends your life, your liberty and your happiness, and those of your family and loved ones. Surely you would not put in charge of your Government or have one to represent you as an integral part of this government, who has no experience or training in governmental affairs.

My young friend should not ask the people to train him for office, not only at public expense, but at the expense of neglect of the dire problems and needs of the district while he is being trained. My friends, it simply does not make sense for one to ask so much at the expense of the people. I repeat, challenge my opponents to meet me in joint debate in every county in our district at least once, and more frequently if possible, during this campaign. Also, I here and now take my position with the American Federation of Labor in its fight with the CIO labor dictatorship. I believe in the sound, democratic labor organizations such as the American Federation of Labor and the Railroad Brotherhoods, and I have made this statement without qualification over a long period of time. They are entitled to our support in their battle with the CIO, and I propose to give them my aggressive, active support. Mr. Partlow, where do you stand on this and other vital questions? Are you with the A. F. of L., or the CIO, or will you try to straddle the issue? Mr. Jarman, where do you stand on this and other vital questions?

Vote For EMMETT HILDRETH For CONGRESS

Sixth Congressional District of Alabama.

I STAND FOR:

1. The National Farm Program, with liberal parity payments, and a broad soil conservation program.
2. A continuation of the civilian conservation corps program and particularly in connection with conservation activities....
3. Extension of the crop insurance provisions to cotton farmers.
4. Adequate national defense.
5. Federal aid for our schools—but strictly under State control and regulation. We must at all times retain our State and local control of and supervision over our schools.
6. A liberal labor policy.
7. Liberal treatment of veterans, and their dependent widows and orphans.
8. Continuation and extension of the reciprocal trade agreements.
9. Fair and equal freight rates for the South.
10. Liberal Federal aid for the construction and maintenance of our highways, roads, and bridges.
11. Coordination of WPA, Relief, and farm work so that labor will always be available at the time and place when and as needed.

I AM AGGRESSIVELY AGAINST:

1. Dictatorships of every kind, and all foreign "Isms".
2. War. The United States must keep out of Foreign wars, entanglements and alignments.
3. Waste and extravagance in governmental affairs.

Secretarial Club Gives Interesting Survey of Business Institutions In Montevallo

The Secretarial Club of Alabama College threw the searchlight on Montevallo business life for the benefit of the Business and Professional Women at a meeting held in West Main Parlor the evening of March 25. Their description started with the beginning of business life in Montevallo and continued with the various types of business found in this community today. At the close of the discussion, members of the Secretarial Club withdrew and the Business and Professional Women held a business meeting, chiefly concerned with the community improvement program they are now sponsoring.

Recollections

The account of the beginnings of commercial life, presented by Miss May Lyman Woods, was filled with interesting facts culled from the recollections of some of the oldest citizens. Like other pioneer communities, Montevallo first secured its wares from traders, who canvassed the country with their packs of assorted merchandise. About 1840 a few shacks were built on what is now the main business street and a Connecticut trader opened the first store. In the succeeding years, representatives of many old families yet living in town came to Montevallo—the Kroells, Lymans, and Jeters. An important country market sprang up, catering not only to the people of Shelby, but to those of Bibb, Jefferson, and other nearby counties. In 1898 the first bank was established. After operating for three years, it closed its doors and the present bank was organized.

Discussion

Five-minute talks by each member of the Secretarial Club included a discussion of employment, the beauty shops, the bank, the movie, the grocery, furniture, and drug businesses, the specialty shops, the Coca-Cola Distributing Company, the J. A. Brown industries, the public service companies, and imports and exports generally.

This discussion showed a close relationship between business and Alabama College. In fact, one operator reported that fluctuations in business furnished an excellent "calendar" of campus activities. Some, however, owed less than a third of their total sales to the college. The bulk of the shipments into Montevallo undoubtedly show the influence of the building program on the campus—they consist largely of lumber, gravel, sand, bricks, and gasoline.

Women Predominant

With the exception of the beauty shops and the specialty stores, the predominantly feminine composition of Montevallo's population appears to affect the town's sales very little. One of the leading beauty shop operators reported that their patronage comes chiefly from the women faculty and the young married women, who come in for shampoos and manicures every ten days or two weeks. The drug stores report about the same type of trade—drinks, candy, stationery and tobacco—from the college girls as from others.

The canvass of the grocery business revealed that both college and townspeople buy largely bread and meat, but the college operation buys more fruit than the town; whereas, the rural residents buy sugar, coffee, flour and snuff.

Willie Shaw To Sell Fertilizer

Mr. Willie G. Shaw of Providence, Chilton County, advertises in this week's Times soliciting customers for his fertilizer business.

"I am prepared to give the farmers of this section quick service and best prices on fertilizer," he said. "Every farmer will do well to get my prices before you buy. I can make delivery to your farm."

Mr. Shaw can be reached by mail Montevallo, Route 2, Calera Route 1, or by telephone at 1187, Wessington.

Business Men Meet With Farmers

A meeting of Shelby County business and professional men with farmers to create better understanding of mutual problems was sponsored by the County Extension Workers at 7:30 p. m. Thursday night, March 28 in the auditorium of the old Courthouse. A barbecue supper was served to fifty five.

A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent, was in charge of the meeting. He explained the problem confronting the farmers in Shelby County. W. M. Clark, 4-H Club Agent, spoke on the 4-H Club work in the county. Miss Marian Cotney, home demonstration Agent, talked on the home demonstration program for women.

The Farm Bureau representative was Mr. J. Frank Baker of Dargin. He spoke on the benefits of organized agriculture. Mr. W. J. Bailey, manager of the Alabama College farm and dairy herd, painted an excellent picture of the livestock situation in Shelby County.

In response, L. H. Ellis, Judge Wales W. Wallace, J. F. McGraw, and Pierce A. Garrett gave very interesting talks. The program enabled the business and professional men and the farmers to realize that full cooperation from all sources is necessary to obtain mutual benefit.

Cotton Varieties Affect Yields

Auburn, Ala.—One of the reasons why cotton production has increased from 165 pounds per acre in 1910 to 251 pounds per acre in 1938 is improved varieties, according to Dean M. J. Funchess, director of the Alabama Experiment Station. The station has, by variety tests in all sections of the state, determined the best yielding varieties for each section.

Dean Funchess pointed out that usually the greatest returns from the cotton crop are obtained by growing varieties that will produce staple seven-eighths of an inch or longer in length. The Experiment Station does not recommend varieties that produce a shorter staple than this.

Results of variety tests conducted last year show that Stoneville 2-B and 5-A, Coker 100, DPL 11-A, Washington (Delfos 719), and Cook 144 are satisfactory varieties for any section of Alabama which is not infested with the cotton wilt disease.

"It is advisable to plant only a wilt-resistant variety of cotton in central and south Alabama on account of the prevalence of wilt," he said. "There are several wilt-resistant varieties that compare favorably in yield and other qualities with the best non-wilt-resistant varieties. These are Cleve-wilt, Cook 144, Dixie Triumph, and Cleveland and they produce a staple of around one inch. Wiregrass Cook and Auburn Cook are good yielding, wilt-resistant varieties that produce a staple of around fifteen-sixteenths of an inch in length.

The Extension Service usually recommends Stoneville and DPL for non-wilt areas and Cleve-wilt, Cook 144, or Dixie Triumph for wilt areas.

Mrs. B. C. Williams of Tuscaloosa is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. F. Miller. Mr. Williams died Wednesday, March 20.

LOCAL NEWS OF CALERA

The Calera P. T. A. served a banquet to 240 Shelby County teachers, their husbands and wives and county board members and their wives, in the auditorium of the High School, Wednesday night, March 27, at eight o'clock. Mr. J. L. Appleton, Supt. of Education was master of the ceremonies.

Mr. H. L. Ellis, enroute to Columbia from Montgomery stopped to say a few words to the assembly.

After the banquet the teachers were entertained with stunts from various schools. This part of the program was in charge of Miss Sasser and Miss Elizabeth Utterback. Music was furnished by a string band and the radio for the dancing at the end of the banquet.

Lowest prices of season are now in effect

The high quality of ORIGINAL GENUINE MONTEVALLO COAL has never been questioned during the 84 years it has been mined at Aldrich. During 1939 we installed as modern a preparation plant as can be found anywhere. It would amaze you to see what "foreign matter" and "impurities" this modern Washer and Tipple removes from the coal that to the naked eye appears to be clean. Did you ever ask how the coal you purchase is prepared?

During the extremely cold weather last winter we were able to continue full operation, whereas many mines, especially the smaller ones, unfortunately had to close down. We were indeed happy to be able to take care of our regular customers during this emergency.

Every ton of our coal is weighed on mechanical automatic scales which prints the weight on a ticket. This assures you that you get full 2,000 pounds in every ton purchased. Always ask the driver to leave you a printed ticket when he delivers you our coal.

We solicit your valued inquiries and orders sixth of the nation's wealth with which to educate one third of the nation's children. "With such disproportionate share of the wealth," he said, "we have but one hope, federal grants to the individual states but without federal control." He pledged his support to the pending federal education bill. Under it Alabama would receive approximately four million dollars the first year, said sum to be increased annually for six years and at the end of six years Alabama would be receiving twelve million dollars annually for education from the federal government.

"The amount of money called for in this bill is small in comparison to some of the outlays which must be made by the federal government," he said.

Agreeing that "America needs and adequate national defense," he said that every dollar spent for improving education and health of the people was a dollar spent for national defense also. "Our first line of defense is the American home. Recalling what a large percentage of young men were unable to qualify because of bad health or poor education in the last war, we should see to it that more of our young men and women are prepared if the day should ever come when they would be called upon to defend this land of ours."

other cooperating agencies whose aid made the buildings possible.

There will be a luncheon at midday in the College Union Building for the distinguished guests.

In the afternoon Governor Dixon, Superintendent of Education A. H. Collins, and Senator Lister Hill will deliver addresses. Much of the afternoon program will be broadcast by WAPI, Birmingham, by remote control from Montevallo through the new radio facilities of Alabama College.

The day's events will be terminated by a concert at 8:15 in Palmer Auditorium by the world-famous young Italian lyric tenor, Nino Martini, who has made a triple reputation—in opera, in the movies, and on the concert stage.

Plans for the elaborate celebration are in the hands of a faculty committee headed by Mrs. Mary Moore McCoy, dean of residence, and consisting of H. D. LeBaron, head of the School of Music; Miss Nora Landmark, college radio specialist; Dr. J. I. Riddle, of the education department; Miss Margaret Cuninggim of the art department; and Shelby E. Southard, executive secretary of the college.

Seniors will attend the programs in cap and gown. The College Orchestra and Glee Club will be featured in the musical portion of the morning and afternoon programs. A special section of the auditorium will be reserved for guests of the college attending the Martini concert.

The Student Senate will act as guides for visitors on the campus, conducting them through the new buildings and showing other recent changes that have taken place at the college. All classes will be dismissed for the day while students join visitors in celebrating the gala occasion.

BALL GAME

Montevallo High School baseball team took the first encounter of the season Tuesday afternoon when it defeated Calera by a score of 10 to 4.

A good way to start a Bermuda grass lawn is to apply 25 to 30 pounds of well-rotted manure to each 100 square feet; work it well into the soil and add five to 10 pounds of 6-8-4 per 1,000 square feet. Then lay off trenches about one foot apart, fill with cuttings of Bermuda, and cover. Pack the dirt well and water thoroughly.

During a recent two-year period, heads of six different types of animals—dog, horse, cat, cow, hog, and gray fox—were found to be positive for rabies when examined by experts of the Alabama Department of Health.

CLAUDE R. WICKARD

GROVER B. HILL

Dirt Farmers Head Dept. of Agriculture

Auburn, Ala.—Two dirt farmers, with a combined experience of 54 years of farm operation and leadership, are now in the No. 2 and No. 3 posts of the nation's Department of Agriculture.

Claude R. Wickard, newly appointed Under-Secretary of Agriculture, has farmed a general grain and livestock farm near Camden, Ind., for nearly a quarter of a century. Grover B. Hill, who was named Assistant Secretary of Agriculture in December, has been a Texas rancher and farmer since 1911. Both men have been associated with administrative work of the AAA Farm Program in recent years.

The new under secretary first became connected with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in 1933 and in 1936 he was made director of the North Central Division of the AAA. As director of the division, which includes the Corn Belt states, Mr. Wickard stressed farmer-administration of the AAA. Mr. Wickard, now 47, has operated the same Indiana farm which was farmed by his father and grandfather. He graduated from Purdue University in 1915, and in 1927 was named a Master Farmer of Indiana in recognition of his work as a farm leader and the improved farming practices which he followed.

Mr. Hill, 51, was named a field representative of the AAA in 1934, after serving on a committee which drafted the AAA range program. Since 1936 he has been in charge of the range program for the Southern Region of the AAA. During the drought of 1934, he directed the regional cattle-buying program in New Mexico, Texas, and Oklahoma. He studied at the University of Texas from 1909 to 1911, after which he went into ranching and farming near Amarillo.

gassed, maimed, blinded, and some of them paid the supreme sacrifice with their lives. I don't want to ever see that again, nor do I want it to come to my son, nor to my son's son. The sacrifice is too great. War leaves no victor; only death and destruction and loss and suffering and sacrifice follow in its wake. So I say, "Millions for defense for our country, and not one penny for any foreign war."

He outlined the active, aggressive support which he has always given to education, and told how the battle for passage of his bill giving nearly a million dollars to the schools out of the surplus income tax funds was won. He stressed the need for federal aid for our schools, but strictly under state control and regulation.

He advocated a liberal labor policy; liberal treatment of veterans and their dependent widows and orphans; the continuation and extension of the reciprocal trade agreements for the disposition of our surplus commodities; fair and equal freight rates for the south; liberal federal aid for the construction and maintenance of our highways, roads and bridges; and called for the coordination of WPA, relief and farm work so that labor will always be available at the time and place when and as needed. He expressed his aggressive opposition to dictatorship of every kind and all foreign "isms"; and against waste and extravagance in governmental affairs.

His full address will be found in the supplement in this issue.

Because of outstanding accomplishments, four Alabama 4-H Club members—two boys and two girls—will receive free trips to the nations' capitol on July 12-19, as state representatives to the National 4-H Club camp.

The next meeting of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation will be held in Birmingham, announces Howard Gray, president. "This will give industrial leaders a chance to learn more about the work of the Farm Bureau," he says.

The AAA program has released an average of four acres per farm from cotton production which can be used to produce more food and chickens, and work stock on the more feed for additional cows, hogs, farm.

Jarman Returns To Conduct His Campaign

Friends Welcome Congressman On His Visits To Different Towns In District

Congressman Pete Jarman, now serving his second term in Congress has been contacting friends and constituents in the Sixth District, having recently returned from his duties in Washington.

Mr. Jarman is meeting with fine reception and is being welcomed by many friends in a brief swing through the District. He has expressed his appreciation for the many voluntary evidence of support and hearty commendations of his work in Washington.

"It will be impossible for me to see all my friends personally," Mr. Jarman stated, "but I hope that each will understand that it is the pressure of time and my duties rather than lack of interest. I would like to see every voter personally and will see as many as possible, but it is not possible for me to cover all the District at once."

"Congress has been in session during 31 of the 40 months I have been your Congressman. This, plus my official recess duties, has made it impossible for me to spend as much time in the District as I would have liked and has prevented me from seeing and conversing with many interested friends. Even so, I have moved my office to the District each year in order to better serve you."

"I greatly appreciate the interest of my constituents in my work and appreciate also the expressions of sentiment on various issues which so many people have written me about. I have attempted to give the utmost consideration to every suggestion and every appeal and will continue to do so. I believe that any Congressman should be cognizant of the opinions of the people of his district on the great national issues."

In a paid political announcement in today's paper part of the precedent-setting record of Mr. Jarman is outlined. His position on the farm parity bill is given, showing that he has always voted for farm legislation and favored farm parity payments. Millions of dollars have been expended by the government in the farm program, much of it coming directly to this county during Mr. Jarman's tenure and he is on record as being in "hearty accord" with any program designed to improve the economic condition of the farmer.

Trav Hartley Is Showing Fine Pitching Form

The sports column of Curly Bowers in Valdosta's daily newspaper indicated that Trav Hartley is getting right into the pitching stance from the very beginning. Last Thursday a report of their exhibition game between Valdosta and Chattanooga says:

"Trav Hartley, who was one of the best relief chunkers in the league last season lived up to expectations by shutting out the Southern League champions the Chattanooga Lookouts for 5 innings at Pendleton Park yesterday in his initial appearance as a relief hurler, as the Trojans lost 5-2 in the game. Trav took over the mound chores in the 4th inning, after Red Brown blew up in the previous canto, and put a lock and chain on the Lookouts until the last inning when the Southern Leaguers scored a lone tally. This run came by virtue of two walks. Hartley was never in better form all last season and he should be one of the league's leading pitcher this year."

Negro School To Present Concert

In response to the request of many friends, both white and colored, the Almont Junior High School chorus of thirty-five voices and a representative group of negro voices will be presented in a musical featuring the negro spirituals at the Almont Junior High School Sunday, April 14, at 3:30 o'clock.

The program, in the main will consist of the Almont Junior High School chorus singing a varied group of the immortal spirituals and the negro audience singing the two best known ones, "Swing Low Sweet Chariot", and "Steel Away to Jesus".

Proceeds from this effort will go toward the building fund of the Almont school.

The public is invited to attend this program. The general admission is ten cents.

There will be reserved seats for white friends.

Hundreds Of Students Gather Here For Annual Inter-High School Meet

Hueytown Wins First Place In Debates; Blount County High Wins In Play Contest

Following a formal welcome extended by President A. F. Harman and Dean T. H. Napier of Alabama College Thursday morning, the hundreds of high school girls attending the 1940 Inter-High School Meet at Montevallo settled down to two days packed full of contests in the fields of art, music, physical education, home economics, dress-making, speech and debate.

Debates

Hueytown High School won first place in debates, and Tuscaloosa Senior High School took second place. The Hueytown affirmative team was composed of Margaret Ann Morgan, Mildred Carnes, and the negative team consisted of Peggy Mauldin and Mary Jo Slater. The second place winners from Tuscaloosa were a quartette composed of Camille Wright, Margaret Shirley, Julia Grace, and Isabelle Chappelle. Mrs. Gladys Vines, an alumna of Alabama College, is the coach of the prize winners from Hueytown.

Three of these girls participated in the national debate contest in Hollywood, California, last year. They were Peggy Mauldin, Mildred Carnes, and Margaret Ann Morgan. They are state champions, one of the few all-girl teams ever to win this honor.

Plays

In the play contest that went on from early morning to late afternoon in Palmer Auditorium, Blount County High School from Oneonta won first prize with their production of the familiar story of Joan of Arc entitled "A Maid Goes Forth to War." West End High School, Birmingham, took second place in the play contest with their version of the play "Ladies Alone." Another winner which the Blount County actors will take home with them is first place for the best individual job of acting—won by Miss Billie Fay Gunter for her role of "Isabelle" in the prize-winning play. Miss Clara Diamond of West

Town Planning Institute Is Launched Here This Week

MR. R. C. MORRISON

Morrison Arrives To Confer With Civic Leaders On Aspects Of Community Project

Mr. R. C. Morrison, town planning expert, arrived in Montevallo Wednesday morning with the purpose of conducting the two-day Institute to which the whole town has been looking forward for some time.

After a short conference with the committee in charge, Mr. Morrison talked most instructively on the subject of town beautification to a small but interested group meeting in the Baptist church.

Mr. Morrison feels that the town beautification is badly misunderstood. People think of beautification as merely the doing of something to cover up that which is ugly whereas if they would take the trouble to design a thing perfectly, it would also be beautiful. For example, the highway beautification, flowers, trees and shrubs do make for loveliness, but on the other hand beautiful curves, gradings and the like can do as much.

Intelligent Planning

The town beautiful is the town that has been intelligently planned so that everything needed in that town has been provided for. Residential areas, industrial areas, and shopping areas are kept separate and each of these areas is made attractive in its own way. One point that struck a particularly responsive chord was that parking might be handled more efficiently in the shopping district. It was suggested that cars could be parked behind stores rather than in front of them, where they obstructed the view.

Mr. Morrison says that since a plan gives order to a town, the important idea is to plan and plan wisely. Too many towns have been spending money that they could probably ill afford, in doing things and doing them wrong. We should see to it that our town is planned not for the immediate future, but for the years to come. Too many of us have no vision; we see our lives as the beginning and the end of things, with no thought for the generations to come. We hope the community will be here for a thousand years. Thus, what we are doing today should be done from the long range point of view.

The Town's Culture

Another important idea is that of the town's culture. Since about sixty percent of the town's area is composed of homes of individuals, these do not belong to the town at large, but to the people. Thus these homes can not be more beautiful than the vision of the people who build them. Mr. Morrison believes that we should expand our conception of what beautification means. It is our duty to see that the people

Hicks' Store Plans Spring Sale

Such an array of bargains as are being offered at the Ben Franklin store, beginning Saturday, seldom is our opportunity to see.

Their counters are the definite proof that Spring is here to stay. Everyone from the tiniest tot to the mother and father can take part in the eighty five outstanding values. For thrifty families this is a real chance to make your budget balance. Don't miss seeing one of their four page circulars describing these unusual values. If you are planning to do spring cleaning see equipment, ranging from the dust mop to the paints for your furniture. Dainty cottage curtains for the kitchen are being offered in the new spring shades at a real value.

The sale last for one week. Beginning this Saturday and ending next Saturday.

County Clubs Are Organized For Crop Improvement

The Wilsonville, Four Mile and Harpersville Communities have organized cotton improvement Clubs. These Clubs are to sponsor the DPL variety of cotton. This variety of cotton is leading in Shelby County today. The farmers cooperating in this program are planting enough seed direct from the breeder to grow their seed for the entire farm in 1941. Others are planting their entire farm in the improved seed so as to have seed for other farms. Special gin days will be held in the fall to insure pure seed for 1941. It is the interest of the clubs to have other farmers cooperate.

The officers for the clubs are as follows:

Wilsonville—S. A. Wolf, Chairman; C. C. Farr, vice chairman; A. B. Turner, secretary; R. M. Eastis, committee; J. M. Harkins, committee.

Four Mile—J. W. Roper, chairman; J. F. McEwen, vice chairman; A. C. Ray, Secretary; Mack Dennis, committee; C. A. Wilder, committee. Harpersville — Clyde M. Wyatt, chairman; T. G. Wood, vice chairman; Lee Chancellor, secretary; Earl Baker, committee; G. M. Gallups, committee.

Should you need any pure seed, give your order to the secretary of your community club.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Dr. Patrick H. Carmichael will preach at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. Dr. Carmichael was formerly pastor of the Montevallo Church, leaving here to become professor of English Bible at Columbia Seminary at Decatur, Ga. He is now director of Leadership Training for the Southern Presbyterian Church with headquarters at Richmond, Va. Residents of Montevallo will welcome this opportunity to hear Dr. "Pat".

STUDIOSIS SALE OF BLIND-MADE GOODS

"THIS IS THE WAY WE LONG HAVE SOUGHT"

To those of us who have worked and tugged in our untrained way toward bilding a better Community, the present town planning institute comes as a sweet refreshing spring on the course of a wearisome journey.

The Business and Professional Women's Club, in causing and making possible Mr. Morrison's visit here, have done more toward building a better community than many of our slip-shod efforts of many years past.

Even from the mere initiation of the institute which we have so far seen, it is certain that it will bring our people together and set us on a course that will get us somewhere. Mr. Morrison is a specialist who knows his job. Never have we witnessed anything more inspiring and more challenging than the picture he has begun to unfold before us.

We are eager to see it all, Mr. Morrison.

PETE JARMAN RETURNED

Congressman Pete Jarman is back in the Sixth District, and is personally directing his campaign for re-election. From headquarters established in Tuscaloosa he is carrying his cause to every county in the District, and is rapidly withering the opposition of the other candidates.

As he goes the rounds of his campaign he finds his friends everywhere are in the same old-time high spirit of enthusiastic support for him. He feels confident that he will come through the primary with a resounding approval of the outstanding record he has made at Washington in the past four years.

Last week Mr. Jarman spent two or three days in Shelby County. He contacted hundreds of people personally, and conferred with the leaders in various localities.

"Everything is in good shape," he said. "We are going to hold the line and we are going to win a great victory in this campaign. I am glad to be back in the District where I can join hands and hearts with my many loyal friends and supporters in carrying our cause forward in the face of all challenges."

"I want to thank those loyal friends who have kept up the fight in my interest while I had to remain in Washington to attend to pressing and important official business."

"As I come back to my constituents asking you to re-elect me to Congress, I am glad of the record which I bring to you of my past four years service. More than that, I am gratified to find my friends are in hearty and enthusiastic approval of that record and standing ready to meet the challenge of any and all opposition."

"We will be in there fighting until the last vote is counted, and when the count is completed, we will win, as I feel that we deserve to win."

SENATOR HILDRETH NOT FAR FROM RIGHT

The Times has found one thing about the Congressional campaign upon which we can agree with Senator Hildreth.

He says that a man elected to Congress should be a man of experience.

That's right, Senator, plumb right—and that is exactly the reason we are for Pete Jarman.

Alabama's calf shows and sales were most successful. About 450 calves, produced by 4-H Club boys with home-grown feed, were exhibited and sold.

AN INTERESTING VISIT

At the close of the Negro school last Friday, twenty-nine of the smaller negro children were invited to visit the Montevallo Elementary School. They came with two of their teachers.

Mrs. Peterson reports that it was a most interesting observation as the visitors went through the building and observed the different things which are provided for study, practice and recreation.

The play ground of the white children was the most absorbing thing for the visitors. They were permitted to enjoy the play things for half an hour.

The white children enjoyed having the little Negroes visit them.

CENSUS TAKERS

Enumeration of the population, farm, and housing census is now in progress.

Miss Sallie Hooker and Mrs. Vedic R. Wyatt are the enumerators in the Montevallo territory. Miss Hooker is working in the surrounding rural area. Mrs. Wyatt is working in the incorporated areas of Wilton and Montevallo. Wilton's census will be completed first.

Shown above is the homemade lamp brooder, designed for use with 50 or less chicks. It is easily constructed, costs from $5 to $7 for material and has proven very successful in all sections of Alabama where it has been used. Plans for it can be obtained from your county agent's office or from John E. Ivey, extension poultryman, Auburn. The brooder is made in sections so it can be easily moved, as shown in the top picture with D. F. King, of the Auburn poultry department, examining it. At the bottom, the brooder, with the sun porch, is shown.

Government To Conduct Cattle Tests For Bang's Disease

The State and Federal Governments have begun a test of cattle in Shelby County for the Bang's disease, which, as its name (infectious abortion) implies, cause premature birth of the young, and once obtaining a foothold on premises where cattle are kept, is very gious from animal to animal.

Symptoms of the disease vary, but outstanding symptoms are actual abortion of the young, hard breeders, bad milking quarters, reduction in normal amount of milk, and cattle failing to properly right themselves after calving or aborting. At this point it is desired by the writer to emphasize the fact that every cow that aborts does not necessarily have the disease, but other causes of abortion are negligible, and of small consequence. It is further desired to emphasize that a cow does not have to abort to be infected with the disease, and be a so called spreader to other cattle. The loss in dollars and cents to the cattle industry due to this disease throughout the county annually is enormous and no cure is known, hence the use of the tradition method for the elimination and control of the trouble.

A human factor in the disease is that in many cases the germ that causes the disease is thrown off through the milk consumed, and not infrequently causes so-called undulant fever in human beings, which its symptoms to be extent resembles malaria and more debilitating; especially is this true in after-effects.

Each and every owner of one or more cows will be notified in advance by the State and Federal veterinarians as to what day their respective cattle will be tested. The test consists of drawing about half an ounce of blood from veins in the neck. In turn the sample is sent to the Auburn laboratory for examination and its finding are reported back to the field veterinarian.

In the event that one or more diseased animals are found on a farm or elsewhere, the field veterinarian and the owner of the diseased animal or animals will agree on what is believed to be a fair evaluation on cattle involved. The diseased animal is condemned to slaughter, the owner getting whatever price such class animal brings on day sold for beef (the meat of such cattle is all right for consumption.) The amount brought for beef is deducted from the animals value and the State and Federal Governments pay the owner two thirds of the difference. That is, if cow is appraised at $60.00 and its owner sold the animal at slaughter for $30.00, the State and Federal Government would pay two thirds of the difference, or $20.00, same being paid on equal basis by the two Governments. On moving diseased animals to slaughter, the owner should comply with instructions given by the veterinarian.

The handling of cattle is similar to the T. B. test, except if no disease is found, the cattle only have to be handled one time to complete the test, and in this test the farmer is paid where disease exist, and such was not the case when the cattle were tested for T. B. in the county.

This work will be done in the county without cost to county Government or farmer. The only thing requested is to cooperate and assist in handling the cattle during the test. Cooperation for a speedy completion of the work on the part of all concerned is earnestly solicited.

BURNING WOODS, STALKS CAUSE HEAVY DAMAGES

Auburn, Ala.—Burning of forests, cotton and corn stalks, and stubble is condemned by Rufus Page, extension forester, in warning farmers to keep fire from spreading from the fields to forest.

"Even light surface fires destroy small trees, damage older timber, and materially retard timber growth," he warns.

"Nitrogen equivalent to about 225 pounds of nitrate of soda is lost when an acre of cotton stalks is burned and about 100 pounds of nitrate of soda 'goes up in smoke' when an acre of corn stalks is burned."

Approximately 75 per cent of the fertilizer used by Alabama farmers are of the grades recommended by the Alabama Experiment Station. Many farmers use 6-8-4 under their cotton while others side-dress cotton fertilized with lower grades with nitrate of soda.

Now Is Time To Destroy Termites

Auburn, Ala.—This is the time of years for rural and urban residents to discover and destroy flying ants (termites), advises W. A. Ruffin, extension entomologist.

"It has been found helpful to treat the soil under the infested house by filling a trench near the foundation walls with waste crank-case oil," he says.

"Another way is to treat the soil with paradichlorobenzene. This material should be used at the rate of one ounce per linear foot of foundation and should be applied in a shallow trench against the foundation and the dirt tightly packed over the crystals. All termites in the surrounding soil will be killed and the treatment will remain effective for approximately six months.

"Paradichlorobenzene is harmless to human beings, but will kill plants within a radius of several feet."

INCOME FROM LIVESTOCK INCREASING IN ALABAMA

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama cash income in January was $5,681,000; $4,337,000 from marketings and $1,344,000 from government payments.

"It is significant that income from livestock and livestock products was $2,239,000 while income from crops was $2,098,000," says

John Liles, extension economist, in pointing out that "this is the second year that more than half the cash income in January came from livestock and livestock products."

Re-Elect PETE JARMAN To Congress

Jarman Supports Farm Legislation

Mr. Jarman has publicly stated "I have always voted for all farm legislation, and never considered doing otherwise."

In March 1939, he voted for the original appropriations bill for parity payments for $250,000,000 (Congressional Record, Page 4025). After an adjustment of the amount by a House Senate conference committee, the revised appropriation came to the house for a vote. The Congressman was in conference on an important matter with Attorney General Lawson and the bell calling the vote failed to ring in his office. Therefore, Mr. Jarman missed the roll call but the bill passed and he had already gone on record as favoring parity payment.

During the nearly four years in which Mr. Jarman has served this District, farmers have received millions in soil conservation and parity payments. The general farm program with which your Congressman is in hearty accord has now been diversified and placed on more stable basis. Mr. Jarman has expressed himself as pleading his best efforts to assist in bringing absolute parity of income to the American farmer in order to place him upon the economic level with other producers of wealth in the nation.

Jarman's Work Sets Precedents

Mr. Jarman is one of only two Democrats now serving on a major House committee who is also Chairman of another. He is a member of the powerful Foreign Affairs Committee, which is an important factor in the nation's relations with the foreign governments and especially so at this time when the foreign situation requires experience, mature judgement and knowledge in order that the neutrality of this Government not be jeopardized—that is that we be kept out of war. Congressman Jarman was the only freshman Chairman of a committee being chosen immediately after his election.

He is the only sophomore Congressman to resign one Chairmanship to accept a more important one. He is now Chairman of the important Printing Committee.

Your Congressman is the only sophomore who is Vice-Chairman of a joint committee, the only sophomore with offices in the Capitol Building. There are 13 offices in the Capitol Building and the other 12 Congressmen there have served an average of more than 20 years.

The prestige which he has gained by the committee assignments and his seniority are valuable indeed to this District.

We Will Keep Him There

A recent marriage of interest was that of Mr. Hugh Miller of Boothton. After a brief visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miller have returned to Arkansas where they will continue to study at Henderson State Teachers College.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Colburn were the week end guests of Mrs. Colburn's aunt in Edgewater.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid Tucker visited in Dolomite over the week end. Miss Susie DeMent spent the week end in Boothton.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brasher visited in Chelsea Sunday.

Mr. John Wilson of Hope, Ark., spent the week end in Boothton as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roland visited in Blocton over the week end.

Special Notice

The P. T. A. will not meet Tuesday, April 16, but will meet instead April 23 at 7:30 p. m., in the Elementary School Auditorium.

Mr. W. F. Tidwell, Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Anderson and Dr. M. L. Orr, attended the NEA meeting in Atlanta this week.

Dr. Stewart Welch and Dr. Frank Wilson of Birmingham were the dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. Ted Bridges Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Peck are visiting their sister Dr. Peck on their way home to Massachusetts after spending the winter in Fla.

Mrs. Ashley Jeter and Mrs. S. M. Mahan were among the shoppers in Birmingham Tuesday.

Miss Lowery Turner spent several days with relatives and friends in Birmingham this week.

Miss Virginia Evans spent the holidays with her parents in Saginaw.

Several ladies from here attended the Shelby Associational meeting of the Baptist W. M. U. at the Underwood Church Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Wood and Mrs. H. S. Lane of Birmingham were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Mahan.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo Emory of Vincent spent Sunday afternoon with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. DeSear.

Medical Society Met With Dr. Peck

The Shelby County Medical Association met with Dr. Peck at Peterson Hall, Tuesday evening, April 9th.

Dr. Stewart Welch of Birmingham gave a very interesting paper on some original research on "Sulfapyridine in Relation to Treatment of Bacillary Dysentery."

Dr. Frank Wilson of Birmingham gave a paper on "Surgery of the Gall Bladder". A good number were present and there was an interesting discussion of both papers. The May meeting will be at the Shelby Clinic at Wilsonville with Dr. Kenneth Gould.

CONGRATULATIONS ED JETER

The former class mates as well as the many other friends of Ed Jeter Phillips will be interested to hear of his progress in his school work. Ed is now a member of the Jr. II class in Scottsboro, Ala. In a class of over a hundred he was elected vice president of his class for next year. Being a new student didn't stop his good work. It was honor roll again for him this past semester. Aside from his regular courses, he is a member of the band playing the tuba.

Funeral Services Held for Mrs. Kennerly's Mother

Funeral services for Mrs. J. F. Ford, who died Sunday night, were held at 4 p. m., Monday, from the Presbyterian Church, at Hartford where her husband, the late Rev. J. F. Ford, was pastor for many years. She is survived by her two sons, Joe and Herbert Ford of Andalusia; three daughters, Mrs. John Reagan, Hartford; Mrs. Julian Kennerly, Montevallo; Mrs. J. F. Calhoun, Colombia South America and several grandchildren.

Over 40,000 Alabama farm families have made applications for cotton and ticking to use in making mattresses under the mattress making program being conducted by the Alabama Extension Service, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation. Limestone County is apparently leading with slightly over 3,500 applications.

Town Planning Group Gathers At Luncheon

At 12:00 Wednesday Mr. R. C. Morrison, director of Holland's Magazine's Institute for Town Planning, met with the local Steering Committee for luncheon at the Girl Scout House. This enabled Mr. Morrison to meet and talk informally with key citizens from town and campus.

There was no program, and no speeches. Mr. Morrison expressed some of his views and encouraged the committee members to voice theirs. This is a field in which we are pioneering, but the idea is a vital one centering around the saving of democracy. As such, the program must be a balanced one and must be dealt with in the three phases of economics, industrialization, and social life.

The group was a very live one, made up of citizens who really should be able to get results. All the clubs were represented, as well as the school, the churches, the town, the girl scouts, the union, and the fraternal organizations. Since the group is so representative and works through so many organizations, the hope is now to coordinate the various efforts and thus secure the cooperation which has always been had for the asking. With that there is no reason why we should not be able to make Montevallo a model town.

Agricultural leaders are reminding Alabama farmers that Monday, April 15, is the last day to file work sheets for farms coming under the agricultural conservation program.

Phys Ed Faculty Members Attend Birmingham Meeting

The Alabama College physical education faculty played a large role in the successful meeting of the Southern Convention of the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. Miss Edythe Saylor spoke on "Opportunities for Professional Growth During the Summer." Mrs. Marva Hough Notestine took a group of her students in folk dancing who gave an exhibition before the association in the Municipal Auditorium. Miss Mildred Caldwell was co-chairman for the ball which was held on Friday evening during which there were several exhibitions of ballroom dancing.

Miss Margaret McCall, head of the physical education department, spoke to the gathering on "Treatment of Undernourished and Fatigued Students in the Corrective Program." Miss McCall also served on the advisory committee arranging for the convention.

Dr. Minnie L. Stekel, student counselor, made one of the major addresses on the program when she spoke about "The Contributions Which the Physical Education Department Can Make to the Personality of the College Girl."

Miss Anne Walker, supervisor in the elementary training school, arranged for a demonstration of her third grade class in rhythms showing integration with other departments in the school.

Miss Elouise Peck, senior student in physical education, made a talk on "The Importance of Content in Activity Courses at High School Level." Miss Elisabeth Conn served on the recreation committee under the chairmanship of Mr. R. S. Marshall of the Birmingham Park and Recreation Board. At the meeting it was brought out that Alabama College was the first institution of higher learning in Alabama to offer advanced physical education training.

Alabama's calf shows and sales were most successful. About 450 calves, produced by 4-H Club boys with home-grown feed, were exhibited and sold.

COTTON SEED TREATMENT

Present indications are that a large number of farmers in Shelby County will treat their cottonseed with a mercury dust this season. The results of seed treatment have such as to justify using it every season. It destroys certain diseases which cause cotton to die when it first comes up.

It is important in the use of the seed treatments to observe a few precautions as follows:

1. Use only mercury dust compound, which is distinctly printed on the package as being recommended for treating of cotton seed. There are many mercury compounds, but only a very few can be used for seed treatment; be sure you get the right one.

2. Apply the compound in accordance with the manufacturer's instructions.

3. Anny seed which have been treated that are not used for planting purposes should be destroyed. Do not let treated seed get in a lot that will be sent to the oil mill, and by all means do not feed them to any livestock on the farm; the treatment is poisonous.

The treatment is easily applied by use of a barrel machine which can be made at home from instructions available at my office. Several concerns in the county have special machines for applying the mercury dust.

Be sure to treat your cotton seed and by all means follow the precautions given above.—A.A. Lauderdale.

THOMAS H. MAXWELL
Woodbank Farm, Route 1
Tuscaloosa, Alabama

Candidate to represent the Sixth district in the Seventy-seventh United States Congress. I call upon all farmers to be campaigners to elect me the only seasoned, tried and true Two-War Veteran Farmer. Get all other country and town citizens to vote with us and give to Tom Maxwell an overwhelming vote of 21,800 in the primary of May 7, 1940 by counties as below:

Perry	1800	Bibb	2500
Shelby	3000	Chilton	3000
Sumpter	1000	Greene	1000
Tuscaloosa	7500	Hale	2000

MAXWELL WORKS FOR

For all citizens and veterans $40 a month age pension; 40 cents per pound parity for cotton and insurance on the controlled crop; collective bargaining for the farmer and industrial labor; a 100-bed hospital for any town giving it a site; continuing of federal aid to roads, school houses and WPA until such support is no longer needed. Our goal for property sake "is a job for every able-bodied person in America." Cessation of tariff and freight discriminations against the South.

I have re-registered personally for war, but shall never urge our nation to expose our boys to foreign wars. I favor adequate national defense. Six hour day

(Pd. Pol. Adv. By Thomas H. Maxwell).

CANDIDATES

FOR DELEGATE TO NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

I hereby announce myself as a candidate from the Sixth Congressional District of Alabama to the National Convention of the Democratic Party, to be held in 1940, at such time as may be fixed by the duly authorized representatives of said party—my said candidacy to be subject to the Democratic Primary to be held in Alabama on Tuesday, May 17, 1940.

L. H. ELLIS

(Paid political adv. by L. H. Ellis, Columbiana, Ala.)

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS, SIXTH ALABAMA DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Representative of the Sixth Alabama District in the Congress of the United States, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary of May 7, 1940. I sincerely solicit the support of the voters of Shelby County.

W. D. (Billy) PARTLOW, JR.

(Paid political adv. by W. D. (Billy) Partlow, Jr., Tuscaloosa, Ala.)

FOR JUDGE OF PROBATE

To the Voters of Shelby County:

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of Judge of Probate of Shelby County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held on May 7, 1940.

Your support, your vote, and your influence in my behalf will be sincerely appreciated.

L. C. WALKER

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS, SIXTH ALABAMA DISTRICT

I hereby announce my candidacy for Representative in Congress from the Sixth District of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary of May 7, 1940. I sincerely solicit your vote and active support.

EMMETT HILDRETH

(Paid political adv. by Emmett Hildreth, Eutaw, Ala.)

FOR CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT

To the Voters of Shelby County:

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Clerk of the Circuit Court of Shelby County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held May 7, 1940.

Your vote and influence in my behalf will be greatly appreciated.

L. G. FULTON

(Paid political adv. by L. G. Fulton, Columbiana, Ala.)

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS, SIXTH ALABAMA DISTRICT

The only farmer, World War veteran candidate to represent Alabama's Sixth District in the U. S. Congress is the undersigned Democrat. All farmers could well join in urging all citizens to seize this outstanding chance to elect overwhelmingly, in the Democratic primary on May 7, 1940—perhaps not needing the primary of June 4—as your next Congressman.

THOMAS H. MAXWELL

(Paid political adv. by Thomas H. Maxwell, Tuscaloosa, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of Judge of the 18th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of the counties of Clay, Coosa, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held May 7, 1940. Your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated.

W. W. WALLACE

(Paid political adv. by W. W. Wallace, Columbiana, Ala.)

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS, SIXTH ALABAMA DISTRICT

I wish to continue representing YOU in Congress. I pledge a continuance of my best efforts to serve my District, my Party and my Nation well. I want your vote, your influence, your friendship and your cooperation. Thank you.

Melvin Israel Will Broadcast Baseball

Baseball fans this year will have the pleasure of hearing the voice of Melvin (Israel) Allen, as he broadcast games of the New York Yanks and Giants for Columbia system in New York. His sponsors will be Camel cigarettes.

Melvin was in Montevallo last Friday visiting the family of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Nathews. He is Mrs. Nathews' nephew.

From here he went to join the New York teams in their exhibition games. Accompanying him to Gadsden for the Sunday game were Ike Nathews, Norris Nathews and his brother Lawrence Israel. At the end of this week Melvin will go back to New York and take up his regular work of broadcasting when the big league season opens.

Parents Are Invited To Visit Auburn On Sunday, May 5

Auburn, Ala. — Sunday, May 5, will be Parents' Day at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. Sponsored jointly by the Interfraternity Council and the college administration, hundreds of parents of Auburn students are expected to visit their sons and daughters here on that day.

Special Parents' Day services have been arranged at the local churches. In the afternoon the visitors will have opportunity to inspect the 14 new buildings recently completed in Auburn's expansion program. There will also be a polo game on Bullard Field that afternoon.

A cordial invitation to all parents of Auburn students to come to Auburn on May 5 is issued by President L. N. Duncan. "We hope that parents will take advantage of this opportunity to visit Auburn on May 5 and be the joint guests of your sons and daughters and the college," he said.

Parents of fraternity men will be entertained at luncheon on Sunday at the various fraternity houses. If the weather permits, several of the fraternities plan to serve the luncheon on the lawns of chapter houses.

Arrangements for the occasion have been made by the following officers of the Interfraternity Council: George Hiller, Jasper, president; Julian Myrick, Lakeland, Fla., vice-president; Parker Narrows, Ensley, secretary-treasurer; and Prof. J. M. Robinson, faculty adviser.

Cullman Voters Favor ABC Set-up

Montgomery, Ala. — Decision by the qualified voters of Cullman County in last Tuesday's county-wide election, to retain their present taxed and regulated State ABC law system, has been construed by Governor Frank M. Dixon as an indication that the people realize the state store system is "infinitely" to be preferred to the former "bootlegging" system.

The Cullman County balloting resulted in an unofficial vote by legalization-adherents of 3,186, to a "dry" vote of 2,928.

Commenting on the vote, Gov. Dixon stated: "The vote indicates a realization on the part of the people of this state that the system we have is infinitely better than the bootlegger system that prevailed before. It (the Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control law) has definitely bettered the cause of temperance in Alabama."

Legal sale advocates have won the last two of the four elections held in Cullman County on the liquor law question since the law was passed in 1935. Dry forces were victorious in the first two.

FARM AND HOME WEEK JULY 29 TO AUGUST 2

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama's annual Farmers' and Homemakers' Week will be held here starting Monday night, July 29, and continuing through Friday, August 2, announces P. O. Davis, director of the Alabama Extension Service.

Each year several thousand farmers, farm women and state and county farm workers attend the educational and recreational programs. State and national farm leaders are being invited to appear on the program.

The annual meeting of the Alabama council of home demonstration clubs of which Mrs. C. T. Butler, of Madison County, is chairman, will be held during the week.

INTERPLANTED LEGUMES
DECREASE CORN YIELDS

Auburn, Ala.—Tests by the Alabama Experiment Station show that the South's 25-year-old practice of planting legumes, such as velvet beans, cowpeas, and soybeans, in corn middles during May, June and July is a bad practice on land that will produce more than 15 bushels of corn per acre.

On the other hand the practice is all right on poor land where the corn yields are 15 bushels or less per acre, as the corn will not make a good yield with or without the legumes. In calling these facts to the attention of farmers, Dr. J. W. Tidmore, agronomist, Alabama Experiment Station, gives the following results:

At Headland corn alone made 14 bushels while corn and velvet beans together gave a yield of 8 bushels; at Belle Mina the yield of corn alone was 37 bushels while corn and velvet beans gave a yield of 25 bushels; and at Crossville a rotation of cotton, vetch and corn gave a yield of 40 bushels per acre, while cotton, vetch, corn, and beans gave a yield of 29 bushels per acre.

Suggestions For Use Of Fertilizer

Just now, you are making a big investment in fertilizer, and it is important that you buy the fertilizer that will give you the most for your money.

In the fertilizer test at Alexandra Experiment field, 1 ton of 6-8-4 cotton than a ton of 3-8-5 fertilizer. This 870 pounds of cotton at 3 cents per pound is worth $26.10. At the present time a ton of 6-8-4 will cost about $3.60 more than a ton of 3-8-5.

In experiments 100 pounds of nitrate produced 8 bushels of corn and the fertilizer will cost about $1.75.

According to these test, 6-8-4 is the best fertilizer for cotton, and nitrogen alone for corn.

You can make a ton of 6-8-4 by mixing 750 pounds of soda or 583 pounds of sulphate of ammonia, 1000 pounds of phosphate and 160 pounds of muriate of potash.

Cotton should be fertilized at the rate of 600 pounds of 6-8-4 per acre, and corn at the rate of 225 pounds of nitrate per acre.

Remember that high yields mean lower cost for production.—A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent.

Town Planning

who builds understand what real beauty means and that they appreciate its value.

According to Mr. Morrison the laying out of parks is very important in that it gives an opportunity we already have. However, a park department should be set up to control that part of a town's life. This idea appealed particularly when it was suggested that such beauty spots would not necessarily call for a great expenditure of money. The far-sighted thing to do is to buy up tracts at a small price even though the development may not come for a period of years.

Parks As Playgrounds

Parks are also important from the point of view of playgrounds. Mr. Morrison says that playgrounds need not be eye sores. In fact they may be made so attractive that the people will be glad to live in their neighborhood. And school grounds may be just as attractive as park playgrounds.

A point upon which Mr. Morrison was especially emphatic was that business should not be so cold. It should be a social venture. In fact we could well catch some of the old-country spirit in which the people centered their social life in their business.

The final point brought out by Mr. Morrison was that Montevallo as a college town should be a model town for all the state to copy. The school and the College should be closely knit to the town life. Then everyone should be put to work, to work for his town. The more work we put into a project or a town, the more we feel that that project or that town is ours, and the more we enjoy it.

PRETTY ROCK GARDEN

One of the show places of our town to be proud of is the Peterson rock garden. The flowers in bloom range from wild violets to azalea. I don't know of a better way to describe it than to say, "It's a place to rest your soul." The white tulips dispersed among the rocks are of rare beauty. Frogs hopping in the fish pond lend their part in furthering the quiet serenity of the spot.

The Peterson family is to be commended for the untiring effort that must have been given to the place.

A DAY-TIME HAIRDRESS

For casual wear, Larry Germaine, hair stylist, has created this coiffure for Laraine Day. The young actress wears it on informal occasions.

A—The hair is caught up on the sides in a swirl with soft ringlets framing the face and a loose dip on the forehead.

B—The crown of the head is kept smooth and gives the effect of a tiny cap with ringlet curls around it.

C—The sides of the hair, right and left, are identical. Combed off the face, the hair is caught up at the temples and brushed in soft ringlets around the face.

D—After the hair is thoroughly dry, Mr. Germaine brushes it vigorously before combing. This brushing tends to polish and add sheen to the hair.

E—The finished hairdress is combed into place. The sides are caught up at the temples and then brushed into soft ringlets around the face. Pin curls on top are combed into a soft dip on the forehead.

Approximately 75 per cent of the fertilizer used by Alabama farmers are of the grades recommended by the Alabama Experiment Station. Many farmers use 6-8-4 under their cotton while others side-dress cotton fertilized with lower grades with nitrate of soda.

High School Meet

End High School received second place recognition for her fine performance of the role of "Peggy" in "Ladies Alone."

Story Telling Contest

Miss Anne Holomon, Bessemer High, was first prize winner in the story telling contest, while Miss Joyce Herndon, representing Tuscaloosa Senior High, was awarded second place honors. Miss Holomon's instructor is Miss McAdory; Miss Herndon's instructor is Mr. Vincent Raines. This is Joyce's second time to take this award. She also won the French reading contest at Auburn to show her versatility.

Athletic Contests

On account of inclement weather, the athletic contests were held in the college Field House—formerly an airport hangar—whose great size was taxed to capacity by the high-spirited youngsters playing badminton, shuffleboard, human croquet, mass games, folk dancing, rope jumping, and a dozen other activities taught by the health and physical education department at the State College for Women.

The Music Hall resounded with chords and discords as dozens of young pianists and violinists went through their paces under the eyes of the faculty of the School of Music. The music program Thursday and Friday consisted of solo performances, music reading tests, ensemble performances, and lectures on various phases of musical instruction by Mieczyslaw Ziolkowski, York Kildea, and other members of the music faculty.

Music Ratings

The contest was ranked on the basis of seven grades, very superior, superior, excellent, good, average, below average, and inferior. Of the 30 piano contestants, Miss Charlotte Gardner of LaFayette received the rating of excellent; Miss Mary Elizabeth Fite of Hamilton, good; Miss Dorothy Patterson of Greenville, good; Miss Sara Bryan of Livingston, good. Of the 12 voice contestants Miss Mary Evelyn Scott of Shades Cahaba, Birmingham, received the rating of good. Vocal ensemble groups from the following high schools were heard: Russellville, Shades Cahaba, Tuscaloosa, Thompson, Montevallo, Heflin, Goodwater, and Samson.

Home Economics

In the home economics section interests centered on the new field of cosmetology, where the high school girls were instructed in the art of tasteful and effective make-up. Others found themselves engaged in the fashion show, dress-making and dress-designing, and the nursery school.

In the art department the young would-be artists exhibited their skill in the fields of water color, charcoal drawing, art structure, sketching from a costume model, and oil painting.

RETURN FROM 100 HENS EQUAL TO 7 BALES OF COTTON

Auburn, Ala.—The annual gross income from 100 hens equals that of seven bales of lint cotton.

This is reported by John E. Ivey, extension poultry specialist, who has just completed a three-year survey of poultry keeping projects in Alabama.

"The summary on 673 farms with 111,254 hens shows an average annual egg production of 169 eggs, average price of eggs 24.3 cents per dozen, gross income of $332.37 per 100 hens, and income above feed cost of $152.80 per 100 hens, or $1.52 per hen.

Average price of cotton for the three-year period was 9.59 cents per pound. On this basis it would require 3,554 pounds, or seven bales of cotton, to equal the gross income per 100 hens.

Assuming that the farmer produced three-fourths of the poultry ration on his farm in the form of corn, or corn, wheat and oats, and assuming that the average price of supplement was $3 per 100 pounds, the 111,254 hens furnished a market for home grown corn at $2.57 a bushel. The daily cash income was 91 cents per 100 birds.

Jarman Returns To Washington For Vote On Farm Bill

Congressman Pete Jarman took a plane for Washington the early part of the week because of the pressure of important legislation. He went especially to use his influence in favor of the Bankhead-Fulmer Cotton Crop Insurance Bill and to help pass the appropriations conference report on parity payments to farmers.

A wire from Senator John H. Bankhead to Mr. Jarman said: "Knowing of your interest in agricultural legislation favorable to farmers, I am wiring you so that you may arrange to be here Thursday."

Another wire from Honorable Sam Rayburn, House majority leader, also asked Mr. Jarman to be in Washington this week.

Congressman Jarman's farm record is impressive. He voted for the bill providing for a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements, sponsored by Secretary of State Cordell Hull and designed to assist in helping market agricultural products, especially cotton, in foreign countries.

Mr. Jarman has gone on record as favoring "laws designed to strengthen the farmer's position and bring his income to a higher, more desirable level."

Congressman Jarman regrets the necessity of being absent from the District at this time, because he has expressed the wish to talk with many friends and contact as many of the voters as possible.

"I know that people of the Sixth District will understand," Mr. Jarman said, "that these important votes for the benefit of the people require my presence in the House. I again express my appreciation for the commendation of my record and good wishes expressed by so many voters and friends and during my enforced absence from the activities of the current campaign I trust my friends will continue their fine work in my behalf."

First-Class Rating Is Received By Campus Newspaper

According to an announcement from the Associated Collegiate Press headquarters in Minneapolis, The Alabamian, campus newspaper, published by students at Alabama College, has been awarded the first-class honor rating by the journalism faculty of the University of Minnesota, who rate the college newspapers each year.

The Alabamian was the only Southern winner of this honor in its class among schools with an enrollment ranging between 500 and 1,000 students.

Miss Frances Scarbrough of Eastaboga edits the pace-setting paper; while Miss Mary Jo Raney of Scottsboro is business manager. The staff recently issued a 16-page special edition carrying stories and many pictures about the college's new building program and other changes at the State College for Women. Five thousand of these papers were sent to students, alumnae, friends of the college, and all Alabama libraries and editors.

Census Notice

The federal census in Montevallo is now being taken by Mrs. W. M. Wyatt.

The cooperation of all citizens is earnestly requested to the end that the work may be done as thoroughly, efficiently, and as promptly as possible.

Alabama College Dedicates New Buildings

Pictured here are the buildings to be dedicated, and the principal speakers for the dedicatory exercises, which will take place on the campus of Alabama College when the State College for Women celebrates "All-State Day," Thursday, April 25. The two buildings are Braxton Bragg Comer Hall, a classroom, faculty office, and radio building; and Julia Strudwick Tutwiler Hall, a new senior dormitory pronounced by Southern architects to be one of the most attractive residence halls found on any Southern campus.

Heading the list of speakers in the dedicatory exercises are Governor Frank M. Dixon and United States Senator Lister Hill. Appearing on the program with Governor Dixon and Senator Hill are Donald Comer, Gessner T. McCorvey, State Superintendent of Education A. H. Collins, and President Arthur Fort Harman of Alabama College.

Mr. Comer and Mr. McCorvey will speak on the morning program at 10 o'clock.

Governor Dixon, Senator Hill, and Superintendent Collins will speak on the afternoon program beginning at 2 o'clock. The exercises will be held in Palmer Auditorium. All classwork will be suspended for the day; seniors will be in their caps and gowns.

The day's gala program and festivities will be concluded when Nino Martini, young Italian lyric tenor, is presented in concert at 8:15 p.m. Mr. Martini has made a three-fold reputation: In opera, in motion pictures, and on the concert stage.

Medical Satire Is Final Play Of College Theatre

"Dr. Knock," a satire on medical quackery, is the vehicle chosen by the College Theatre of Alabama College for their final production of the year, Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock in Palmer Auditorium. This famous play by Jules Romains centers around the foibles of a community which allows a smooth-tongued quack to sell them wholesale sickness. By the third act, "Dr. Knock's" practice has grown so great he has been obliged to take over a hotel for hospital space.

Dr. W. H. Trumbauer, director of the College Theatre, is directing "Dr. Knock." The cast includes Virginia Nancarrow, Birmingham; Mary Sterne, Anniston; Lois Blake, Bessemer; Louise Rhey, Atlanta, Ga.; Jeanne Espy, Gadsden; Jean Vick, Cullman; Amanda Keelyn, Talladega; Phyllis Korth, Birmingham; Frances Croley, Daviston; Ezelle Bonner, Cullman; Mabel Wesley, Talladega; Shirley Sneed, New Orleans, La.; Frances Williams, Greenville; and Mary Hellon Moore, Birmingham.

BILLY AND BETTY PENDLETON HONORED WITH PARTY

Mrs. P. D. Pendleton entertained Tuesday afternoon, April 16, from 4 to 6, honoring her twins, Billy and Betty, on their 12th birthday.

A color scheme of blue and white was carried out in the decorations and refreshments. The dining table was centered with a beautiful bowl of blue and white narcissus. Two large white cakes bearing twelve white candles in blue holders graced the ends of the table.

After a most enjoyable afternoon of games and contests, the cakes and ice cream were served to the following guests: Mildred Wooten, Marjorie Shores, Alice Creel, Mary Sue McLain, Pat Wyatt, John Gilbert, and the honorees, Billy and Betty Pendleton.

Mrs. Coonshaw assisted Mrs. Pendleton in entertaining.

GOULD-HEATH

Miss Gould (Bill) was an employee of the Southern Bell Telephone Company here before she was transferred to Anniston. Their many friends wish them much happiness.

Planning Committee Proves To Be Forward Looking Event

Spotlight Carnival Rivals Ripley In Good Entertainment

The most sensational show ever to be staged in this part of the state is booked for April 19, at Montevallo High School.

This entertaining feature, the Spotlight Carnival, will hold you spellbound from the beginning until the very last feat is performed. The idea of such a program is somewhat new, and the students have taken advantage of its differentiability to put together a large group of wonderful stunts. Each class has a different feat to perform, and after weeks of rehearsal, everything is ready to be put before the public.

Ladies and gentlemen, if you want the truth, here it is. Believe it or not, Robert L. Ripley doesn't have the slightest edge over this gala opening of a show never to be forgotten.

You may think the students of Montevallo High are not capable of such performances, but you all have seen the wonders of nature, the great inventions of genius, and have witnessed masterful concerts given by the world's finest musicians, and if any of you miss the Spotlight Carnival, you will only read about it in history. If any of you are allergic to good, wholesome entertainment, stay away. On the other hand, if you enjoy fine performances, come, yes, by all means, don't forget to attend this side-splitting festival.

Bring your family and friends!

Montevallo Boys Elected To Class Offices At Auburn

Auburn, Ala. — Two Auburn sophomores from Montevallo were elected to Junior offices in the elections held at Alabama Polytechnic Institute this week.

Russell Ambrose, whose home is in Wilton, was chosen treasurer of the Junior Class by a large majority of votes. Ambrose is enrolled in Business Administration. He is pledged to the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity. Having won his numeral on the freshman baseball team last season, Ambrose is playing with the varsity squad this year.

Bob Anerson, who is enrolled in Journalism won a landslide victory for the office of Junior Class representative to the Student Executive Cabinet. Anderson was president of the Sophomore Class this year. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, and is on the editorial board of the Plainsman. Earlier in the year he was chosen to Squires, honorary sophomore service group.

Both of these students graduated from Montevallo High School in 1938. Incidentally, they are roommates at Auburn.

HERE'S THE QUESTION

It is no trouble to see how or why a number of worthy and aspiring young men should desire to be elected to Congress. But it is beyond the ability of this editor to figure how they are going about the task of convincing us that we should turn Pete Jarman down and give the job to one of them. They may have some "argument," but we doubt if it can go much deeper than the personal desire of an "out" to get in. We want to see the fellow who can prove that it is better for the Sixth District to turn Pete down and put any new man in his place. We don't believe such an argument can be proved. And we do not believe the people of the District will do it.

Mr. Morrison Finds Many Things To Commend And A Number Of Conditions To Improve

The Town Planning Institute, which was held in Montevallo on Wednesday and Thursday of last week through the efforts of the Business and Professional Women's Club, was one of the most forward-looking ever held in the town.

For two days, Mr. R. C. Morrison, of Holland's Magazine, met with groups large and small to discuss ways of making Montevallo a better town. All general meetings were open to the public and were attended by people from all organizations of the town and by people who belonged to no organization. After having secured Mr. Morrison's services, the Business Women made the affair a community project and in no wise a club project. In fact, it embraced more than the immediate community, as a number of people from Calera took part in it.

Mr. Morrison proved to be a man with very practical ideas. His plans did not call for a large expenditure of money, but rather for careful planning which would have things done right the first time; for the expenditure of small amounts of money at the right time in order to save greater amounts later. Particular emphasis was placed on civic pride and cooperation and upon cooperation between the town and the surrounding country. It was pointed out that business would be improved if the town were made more attractive and if the people from the country had more friendly contacts with the people from the town.

Mr. Morrison looked over Montevallo very thoroughly and found many things to commend. He pointed out particularly the Girl Scout Little House and the Boy Scout building, the well paved streets, the progressiveness of the schools, the cleanliness of the hotel, the town newspaper, and most of all, the intelligence of the town government. Things pointed out as not so desirable were the two unsightly water towers, vacant lots held for higher prices, lack of care given to the high school building, lack of park areas and inadequacy of school grounds, unattractive store window displays, and the lack of modern improvements at the hotel.

At the close of the Thursday evening meeting, a committee consisting of Dr. Hallie Farmer, chairman, Mrs. Mary Hood, Dr. A. F. Harman, Dr. F. B. Pearson, Mr. R. E. Whaley, and Mr. W. M. Wyatt was appointed to inaugurate the formation of a town organization which would work toward the improvement of business and social life.

P. T. A. TO MEET

The P. T. A. will meet Tuesday evening, April 23, at 7:30, in the Elementary School Auditorium. Mrs. Mary G. Bickler will be the leader of the discussion.

COMMUNITY MEETING APRIL 26

The Community meeting scheduled to be at the High School Saturday night has been postponed until Friday night, April 26.

Wanted Hobbies

If you have a hobby, let others have a chance to see it. Bring your hand-work, photography, stamps, buttons, flowers, arrow heads, pottery, and other knick-knacks to the Spotlight Carnival Hobby Show. Bring your exhibits to the high school before 3 p.m. Friday.

ENJOYMENT

a plus value of Electric Cooking*

* Miss Susan Brandon, head home economist of Alabama Power Co. points out to Mrs. Paul Crump an enjoyment feature of her new electric range.

ALABAMA POWER COMPANY

Electrify Now—Electricity is Cheap in Alabama

* Electric water heating has similar plus values.

There is no charge for their services, and they have nothing to sell. The one assigned to your community will be glad to visit you shortly after your request to our nearest office.

And if you're planning a new home, you'll find the suggestions of these trained women helpful, because surely you'll want the new home to be modern—and that means all-electric.

AN electric range has many elements of enjoyment for its owner—plus values. Among these electrical plus values are the joys of a cleaner kitchen*. The pleasure of being up-to-date*. The assurance of safety* (important where there are children in the home). The delight that comes from commendable meals so easily prepared on the electric range. Surprise at the low operating cost*. The thrill of hearing admiration of friends*. The satisfaction of being able to go a-visiting with the knowledge that your automatic electric range will cook the meal as efficiently as if you were there watching it.

An electric range is more than just another cook stove, so to fully enjoy its plus value requires a bit of knowing. Because we want our customers to get the greatest enjoyment and benefit from their electric service, we employ a staff of women (all home economics graduates of southern colleges) qualified, and pleased, to help every customer get the utmost advantage from her electrical home devices.

ROAD CONTRACT TO BE LET SOON

Mr. Pat Langston, engineer of the State Highway Department at Centreville told the editor Monday that he and his department, in cooperation with Judge W. L. Pratt are making every possible effort to secure all deeds and easements of the right-of-way for the Montevallo Highway and this project should be advertised in the next few days. There are about 75 deeds to be secured and Mr. Langston and Judge Pratt have been working hard for the past several weeks to get these deeds signed up and to iron out all difficulties encountered in convincing property owners to sign up the deeds.

The main reason that this road has been delayed thus far, is due to the fact that the Federal Government is paying half of the cost of this project, and every one knows that in dealing with the Government there is a lot of red tape attached. State Highway officials and local citizens who are interested in this highway have done everything possible to rush construction, and we will say now, that even if it has taken a long time, that when the road is finally started it will mean much to those who are fortunate enough to secure jobs and to the merchants and business men of the county, and with the road being built under the supervision of the Federal Government, Bibb County will have a real highway to be proud of.

Mr. Sherlock, Director of the State Highway Department, has made a definite promise that work will be started on Road No. 5 below Brent on October 1st and the citizens located along that highway and others interested may rest assured that the State Highway Department will be held accountable for the promise.—Centreville Press.

Challenge to Debate

Mr. Hildreth is consistently challenging Mr. Jarman and Mr. Partlow to debate the issues — he receives no answer, just silence.

How can a man effectively represent you in the halls of Congress if he feels unwilling or incapable of meeting a primary opponent in a debate of the issues before the people?

EXPERIENCE IS MOST IMPORTANT QUALIFICATION

The experience of the candidate is the most important thing for the people to consider in voting for a Congressman. It is important in case of any public official, but it is more important in case of a candidate for Congress than any other official we elect.

Actual service in Congress is the only experience a man can have which gives him power and influence in that body, and fully develops his ability and fitness to serve his constituents. Through his service he becomes eligible for place on important committees and chairmanship of committees, which eligibility, under the rules of the house can be attained no other way.

In the present campaign in the Sixth District one of the candidates opposing incumbent Pete Jarman uses the argument that only men of experience should be elected. If that be true, and we believe it, then it must follow that the man of the best and widest experience should be the best man to vote for. By this line of reasoning we arrive at the opinion that the voters of the District will not turn away from a good, honest, able and hard-working Congressman of experience, just to put a new, untrained and untried man in his place.

The other candidates have not offered a single reason why Mr. Jarman does not deserve the continued support of the people of his district. All they have done is tell us they would like to have Mr. Jarman's job and that they will try to make a good Congressman. Maybe they would. We believe they are honest men and no doubt would do the very best in their power. But that is not the question the people of the Sixth District are thinking about.

We know we already have a good Congressman. He is honest, he is able. He is a hard worker. He has represented us well for two terms. By his experience he is in a position to serve us better than any other one can possibly do. Pete Jarman has done for his District in his two terms everything and more too that his opponents now promise to do. They have not advanced a single promise that has not already had the full and fair attention of Mr. Jarman.

Congressman Jarman, during his present term, has served as chairman of the important House committee on printing, and as a member of the powerful committee on Foreign affairs. As chairman of the committee on printing he has his office in the main Capitol Building. There are only 12 other members of Congress who hold positions of such importance as to have an office in the Capitol Building.

Now, if we elect a new man to Congress, he will not take Jarman's place in the organization of the House. He will have to start at "scratch," just as Jarman did four years ago, and as all new members do. The places now held by Jarman would not go to his successor, but to some other Congressman, now a member, who held his seniority by re-election.

With the outstanding record Jarman has made the past four years, he is just now in position to become one of the country's most important and influential Congressmen. There is no sense or reason in changing now and throwing away the great opportunities that lie in Jarman's continued service in the House.

Yes, again, we agree that where possible, we should elect Congressmen of experience. That is why we say "Keep Pete Jarman in Congress." Everybody knows (including his opponents) that is the best thing to do. The only reason they don't agree with the idea out in the open is because they want the job themselves.

They know if they don't beat him this time, they never will do it. And frankly speaking, boys, just between friends, we don't believe you can beat Pete.

ROAD WORK IN A BIG WAY

Contracts were awarded last Friday by the State Highway Department for the biggest paving construction and maintenance program in the department's history from the standpoint of mileage involved. The contracts call for the laying of approximately 965 miles of bituminous material on all sections of Alabama's far-flung highway system.

The program on which a total of $993,694 will be expended, comprises 195.90 miles of new paving and 769.30 miles of maintenance and repair paving. Though Friday's awards represented a majority of the work to be done, additional projects are yet to be put under contract. This will be done before the end of the present week.

These additional jobs will bring the program's grand total up to approximately 204 miles of new paving with paving of another 54 miles, completing paved surfaces on which preliminary work was carried out last fall; and, in round numbers, 890 miles of "retread," maintenance and repair paving.

On the basis of low bids received it is estimated that the whole program will cost around $1,300,000, which figure is more than $300,000 below original estimates.

"The political big-wigs are for so and so," we hear it said about the Congressional race. Maybe they are. But the plain people are for Pete Jarman, and it is usually the votes of plain people that carry elections. The people of the Sixth District are not going to throw away the opportunity they have in Pete Jarman's experience just because a few of the cross-roads politicians would lead them off on a "snipe-hunt."

Some say so and so will make us a good Congressman who will work hard, stay on the job, and attend to our business at Washington. Well, that would be fine, we are sure. But do you not know that we already have a Congressman who is doing the job in a jam-up way? Why do you think we would want to change by turning down a public servant who has done a good job just for the sake of giving the place to another aspiring young hopeful who wants the job? We can see no reason in such argument. There is nothing to it but "politics."

Echoes From Town Planning Institute

We must plan what we do.
You can't have a beautiful town unless it is planned.

Anything to be beautiful must have some reason to it.

This is definitely an era of refinement.

A thing which is most beautiful is most useful.

Fifty years is nothing in the life of a town.

It is important that we think of planning, not only to give us beauty, but to stabilize property values for the business man and for those who have investments in homes.

Towns are wasting their money doing things wrong—doing things that will have to be done over.

We think of waste in connection with corruption in government, but the biggest waste is in doing things wrong.

We do many things because our forefathers did them.

Little towns must get together on a cooperative program.

A college town ought to be a model town.

When you analyze beautification you find that about 60 per cent of a town's area is composed of homes which do not belong to the town, and those homes are no more beautiful than the people have the vision to make them.

There are three units in the design of the home: The approach, the living area, and the service area. These units exist both in the house and grounds.

Planting trees and shrubs is only two or three per cent of landscaping. It includes grading, placing water hydrants, putting in the right kind of driveway, and many other things.

Trees in the rear give a good setting for a house.

No shrubs, or fruit or nut bearing trees should be planted along the parkways. They make the streets dangerous for children.

A town must buy land for parks for future generations, and the only feasible thing is to set up a park board to have control of that phase of the town's life.

Business ought to be a social venture.

Business should promote art so that people will have better taste. Business should promote all the best hobbies because they will develop into industry.

Cincinnati is a musical town because it has utilized the musical talent developed in the public schools.

You and I spend $10 every month for crime.

It has been shown that the taxes that come from submarginal dwelling areas are not nearly sufficient to pay for police protection, fire protection, and other services furnished by the municipality.

Disease does not stop at slums.

It is good sense to subsidize good buildings, but it isn't good business to subsidize slums.

Milwaukee decided twenty-five years ago that it would be cheaper to spend money on recreation than on police and jails. Today they have a marvelous recreation program and the lowest crime record in the country.

An ugly, barren play field does not inspire wholesome play. A beautiful play field changes the atmosphere entirely. A beautiful town does the same thing.

If you want to get to the heart of things, get the youngster before he becomes delinquent.

Hitler found out that it was a swell stunt to have a program of recreation.

"I know a town which built a swimming pool and prospered because people from the country and other towns came to the pool."

You can't let the town grow and drift and get what you want.

GIRL SCOUTS

Mrs. Edey Dies After Brief Illness

Mrs. Frederick Edey of Bellport, L. I., Girl Scout National Commissioner, died after a brief illness, on March 17.

Her active interest in the Girl Scout movement covered 21 years, during which she served five successive terms as president from 1930 to 1936. In the latter year the office and title, National Commissioner, was created for her. She became commissioner of the Manhattan (New York City) Council on January 11, 1919. After that time she held many national offices and made friends for the movement in all parts of the world.

At the time of her death Mrs. Edey was chairman of the Girl Scout International Committee in this country. With the members of this committee she had just completed plans for the encampment for Girl Scouts and Girl Guides from 15 countries in the Western Hemisphere to be held at Camp Andree, Pleasantville, N. Y., August 14-23. The foreign girls will be the guests of the organization in this country and will camp with American girls from every section of the nation.

Troop 6

Troop 6 has several members leaving but there are two girls taking their places. They are Elizabeth Albright and Johnnie Latimer.

We had a very interesting lesson at our meeting. All took part and prepared the assignments. We dramatized three plays, mostly about being useful and helpful to others.

Senior Troop

The Senior Troop of Girl Scouts met Tuesday afternoon at the Little House to begin work on the outdoor oven. They carried bricks, rocks, and various other building materials to the place where the oven is to be built.

They also staked and tied the roses. Those present were Jackie Woolley, Evelyn Ward, Pat Weems, Frances Nybeck, Carolyn Ray, Sara Cook, Miss Annie Boyd Parker, Miss Saylor, Mrs. Appleton, and Mrs. Wills.

Troop 3

The Girl Scouts of Troop 3 met April 11. We learned to make a new kind of belt. We also talked about the Juliette Lowe fund. Joyce Farlow was named as the new Juliette Lowe member. Miss Betty LeBaron worked with the girls finishing the hostess badge. We will choose new patrol leaders next time.

The Girl Scouts were very much pleased with the interest shown them in planning their grounds around their house by Mr. Morrison, of Holland's Magazine. Plans for the future as well as the present were discussed. It is hoped that a regular playground can be worked out.

Some Facts From Jarman's Record In U. S. Congress

(Editorial)

In electing and re-electing men to public office we should judge them by the record they have made in public life, what qualifications they have to offer the people in return for their vote, what can we expect of them in case of their election, have they made a success in private life? In the case of Congressman Fete Jarman, who has been a representative of the 6th Congressional District for approximately four years, we can say that he has made a success of this most trusted position, and in asking for re-election, he is doing so with conscience clear, knowing that he has done all within his power to assist the people of his district.

Mr. Jarman has been closely and zealously interested in the federal building and public works program. He has worked continuously and successfully to get all projects possible for the counties in his District. Throughout the district there are thousands of dollars worth of roads, streets, highways bridges, viaducts, schools buildings and other things all of which have had his most careful attention in getting them worked out and approved by federal authorities at Washington.

He has voted for and supported farm legislation for benefit of the farmers and has always been active in promoting the welfare of the farmer.

He has supported President Roosevelt in his great humanitarian program for the advancement of the American people.

He has been a leader in Congress in support of legislation to keep the country out of war. He is a member of the important Foreign affairs committee of the House and upon him rests much of the responsibility for forming legislation to keep us out of the European war.

He has always supported and voted for legislation that he thought would be for the benefit of laboring people.

He has always supported legislation to keep the schools going.

He has supported legislation for benefit of the aged, blind and crippled. Also for federal appropriation to carry on public health work.

He has supported all social security legislation which guarantees pensions to aged workers and payments to citizens who are thrown out of work.

When a citizen desires some information or a personal favor from Congressman Jarman, it is not necessary to get the support of some politician or "referee" to get in touch with Mr. Jarman. You can write him a letter and he will give you as much consideration as he will the biggest politician in the country.

In view of Jarman's record, let us ask you this question: Do you think it is wise now to consider replacing him with a man of no experience in national affairs?

If you are one who has considered giving support to one of his opponents, let us ask you to stop and think honestly and seriously and see if you can find any valid reason why you should do so.

Jarman has done everything in his power to merit the continued support of his district. He, moreover, has not left undone anything that was in his power to do as an honest, conscientious, hard-working representative of the people of his District.

Those who want his job in Congress have tried mightily hard to make up a lot of excuses why one of them should be elected. But none of them have advanced a single sound reason why Pete Jarman should be turned down.

Think these facts over for yourself voters. You do not have to take any politician's word for your guide. If any of them want you to vote for him, let him tell you why it is the best to do that instead of re-electing Jarman.

Partlow Denounces Trade Barriers

Tuscaloosa, Ala.—Artificial trade barriers in the form of discriminatory freight rates and state taxes are an obstacle to the full development of Alabama industry and farming, W. D. (Billy) Partlow, Jr., candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, asserted today.

Coming out strongly for passage of an act which would make illegal such unjust and unfair freight rates, Partlow predicted equalization of freight rates would necessarily result in increased sales of Southern products and accompanying benefits to Southern labor.

"One of the cardinal points in the battle of the people of the South against poverty," Partlow said, "is to insure the free and unhampered movement of trade among the several states.

"Artificial trade barriers in the nature of state taxes on the products of another state are but smaller examples of the disadvantages of the protective tariff.

"One of the greatest handicaps of the South today is the maintenance of the unfair freight rates structure set up for the benefit of northern and eastern manufacturers. I favor the passage of legislation making such unjust and unfair freight rates illegal.

"The equalization of freight rates will necessarily result in increased sales of Southern products and the accompanying benefits to Southern labor."

METHODIST CIRCLE NO. 2

The Methodist Circle No. 2 met Monday at the home of Mrs. Robert Holcombe with Mrs. Jimmie Higgins as co-hostess. There were thirteen members present.

Mrs. M. L. Orr led the program which was "The World for Christ." The scripture lesson was taken from Luke 4:14-19, Mark 15:25-27, Matthew 28:16-20. The meditation was given by Mrs. J. H. Henning. "Birthright Missionary and World Citizen" was given by Mrs. T. H. Napier.

Mr. R. E. Whaley spent Sunday in Greensboro.

We are glad to see Mrs. Helen Clayton out again after several days illness.

Who Will Be The Lucky Couple?

Some June bridal couple from Alabama, possibly from Montevallo, is going to get one week's free July honeymoon in Daytona Beach, Fla. The Chamber of Commerce in the Florida resort city will award the expense-paid honeymoon to the couple that most closely represents the typical 1940 Alabama bride and groom.

Only entry requirement is that a single photograph of the nuptials be sent to the Daytona Beach civic organization before June 30.

A committee of five Summer visitors to Daytona Beach, who live outside Alabama, will be appointed to select the lucky pair.

Every recreation and fun facility of the Florida resort city will be placed at the disposal of the couple during the honeymoon week, which begins July 14.

Photographs submitted will be used for no other purpose than the judging, except when special permission is obtained from the subjects.

Baptist Circle No. 1

Circle No. 1 of the Baptist W. M. U. met Monday, April 15, at the home of Mrs. Reese Woolley.

Devotional was led by Mrs. Fred Frost. A Solo was sung by Miss Reesie Mae Woolley. Miss Freda Cowen of the Alabama College B. S. U. Council gave a most interesting talk on summer work of Baptist Students.

Refreshments were served to 10 members.

Baptist Circle No. 2

Circle no 2 of the Baptist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon April 15 with Mrs. W. L. Brown.

Dr. Fred B. Pearson led the devotional. The subject of the discussion was "Youth Movement." Mrs. R. A. Reid led a very interesting program.

Late in the afternoon refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. R. A. Reid, Mrs. C. L. Merony, Mrs. Kilpatrick, Mrs. M. P. Jeter, Mrs. N. R. Phillips, Mrs. J. I. Riddle, Mrs. Walter Mulkey, Mrs. L. C. Horn, Mrs. J. D. Bridges, Mrs. G. C. Wallace, Mrs. H. G. Parker, Mrs. H. C. Langston, Dr. Fred B. Pearson

Honoring Mrs. Robson

Mrs. Florence Cary and Mrs. G. DeShazo were co-hostesses Friday afternoon, April 12, honoring Mrs. Nannie Robson on her birthday anniversary. This delightful event was held at the home of Mrs. Cary on the Annell Farm. Lavender and pink cut flowers were used throughout the house very effectively.

After an enjoyable hour, delicious refreshments were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Roland Lee, Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Shores and children and the hostesses, Mrs. Cary and Mrs. DeShazo and the honoree, Mrs. Robson.

Miss Willie Ray Dennis was a visitor to Birmingham Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Galloway and little daughter, Bobby Dee, of Birmingham, spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Galloway.

The Ticking And Cotton Ready

Six hundred applications for 50 pounds of cotton and 10 yards of ticking by farm families with an income of $400 or less where one-half the income was derived from the farm have been approved by the County AAA Committee. An order for 60 bales of cotton and 6000 yards of ticking was placed last week.

Those people whose applications have been approved will be notified this week in order that they may purchase mattress needles (1 roll edge needle, and 1 tufting needle) and mattress thread. Jones' 5c and 10c Store in Columbiana will supply the needles and thread at .62c. Each person whose application is approved must buy his own mattress needles and thread.

The mattress chairman in each community will collect for these needles and thread if the applicant is unable to come to Columbiana. Jones' Store is the only store in the County to handle these supplies, which will be in stock by Wednesday, April 24th.

A second order for cotton and the ticking will be placed this week.

BAPTIST CHURCH

"Roll Call" day will be observed Sunday and the roll of all resident members will be called at the Sunday morning service. The pastor will preach on the text, "Grieve not the Holy Spirit." The Sunday evening service will be an installation service for the new Baptist Student Union Council. "For the Haster's Use," will be the theme for the service. The pastor will speak on that theme. Sunday School meets at 9:45 a.m., the Baptist Training Union at 6:45 p.m.

The Mary Alice Boyd Circle of the Missionary Society will meet with Miss Lela Wade Rice Wednesday evening, April 24, at 7:30.

Mosquito A Pest

With the mosquito season close at hand it is time again to think of a means to eliminate these disease-carriers and pests.

At this time of year everyone should search his premises for any container that may hold water, such as tin cans, old fruit jars, old automobile casings, and also see that the rain gutters on houses are not clogged with leaves. Rain barrels should be screened.

Screening on houses should be inspected and needed repairs made. Any small ponds of water that cannot be drained should be oiled once each week with a mixture of three parts of kerosene oil and one part of used automobile oil.

The ordinary house variety of mosquito is not a disease carrier, therefore is not a public health problem, but is a considerable nuisance. These mosquitoes do not travel far from their breeding places and when they do become very numerous, the source is usually found on the premises or close by.

The malaria carrying mosquito, which is the health worker's chief concern, usually breeds in ponds or swamps, especially in artificial lakes and ponds. It is hoped that during this summer it will be possible to resume drainage work in several sections of the county to eradicate breeding places of the mosquito.

Mr. Will Reid of Pensacola, Florida, spent the week end with his brothers, Dr. J. I. Reid and Mr. R. A. Reid.

Mrs. Polly G. Lester of Montgomery spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Galloway.

Miss Margaret Ward of Birmingham was the week end guest of her mother, Mrs. G. K. Ward.

Dr. and Mrs. J. I. Reid spent Friday in Birmingham.

Clerks Local Has Annual Banquet

Local 185 retail clerks union held its annual banquet on Thursday night April 11. Speakers of the evening consisted of Billy Partlow and representatives of miner's locals of the vicinity. Plates were served to about one hundred people and it is estimated that one hundred and fifty came during the evening.

The Southern Plantation Plowboys of Birmingham furnished the music for the occasion. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour, especially the old fashioned square dance which was called by Mr. Stanley Mahan.

The purpose of these banquets is to promote good will between the Clerks' Union and the merchants and others in the community.

Mrs. Shortie Holder and little daughter, Juanita, were among the shoppers in Birmingham Tuesday. Mrs. M. P. Jeter spent Tuesday in Birmingham.

C. M. T. C. News About Quotas

It was announced today at Fort McClellan that the unfilled C. M. T. C. county quotas would shortly be filled by transfer of applicants from counties which exceed their quotas. At the present time applications have been received from 110 of the 143 counties in the Fort McClellan Camp Area, leaving 33 counties unrepresented.

County quotas are set up in proportion to county population and the Corps Area Commander desires that each county fill its quota and receive its share of C. M. T. C. representation. On the other hand, they do not feel that young men who are eager to avail themselves of this vacation opportunity should be denied as long as vacancies exist because some young men delay their applications until the last minute.

Great interest is being shown by some applicants in the fact that graduates from the blue course, the fourth year of training, are qualified on completing other requirements, to obtain a commission in the Officers Reserve Corps. Others appear more desirous of assuring themselves of higher education by capturing one of the several scholarships which will be awarded, and the details of which will be announced immediately after the opening of Camp by the Camp Commander.

Farley Urges District To Keep Pete Jarman

Postmaster-General Addresses Sumter County Voters and Urges Re-Election of Representative

Postmaster General James A. Farley was whirled into Livingston at 3:15 p.m. Sturday, hand shaking and speech making. The party was preceded by sirens, screaming in concert with six highway patrolmen on motorcycles, a patrol car, Mr. Farley's car, a patrol wagon piled high with luggage, a staff writer, and a photographer, which covered the trip.

Congressman Pete Jarman joined Mr. Farley just across the line at Kewanee.

The crowd at Livingston swelled by S. T. C. college boys numbered around 600.

Pete Jarman introduced Mr. Farley after making a short talk to his home town people, who were all happy to see their Congressman from the Sixth District.

Mr. Farley said:

"May I say that I am intensely interested in Pete Jarman. May you return him to Congress for many years to come." — Southern Home, Livingston.

Mr. Jarman appeared with the Postmaster General at several places in the district. At every place Mr. Farley took occasion to give Mr. Jarman verbal "pats on the back."

Hildreth Continues Aggressive Campaign

Tuscaloosa, Ala. April 13—Senator Emmett Hildreth, candidate for congress, sixth District, concluded a week of extraordinary activity with a speech at the Lafoy School tonight. He reiterated his challenge to his opponents to meet him in debate on the vital issues in the Congressional race, stating the debates would be of great benefit to the people in determining for whom they should vote. He called attention to the fact that no response had been received to his challenge and asked whether his opponents were unwilling or incapable of debating the issue before the people.

Speaking in a stirring, aggressive manner, he outlined his platform, pledging his support to the national farm program with liberal parity payments and a broad Soil Conservation Program. He advocated fair and equal freight rates for the South; the extension of crop insurance provisions to the southern cotton farmers; liberal treatment of the veterans and their dependents; continuation and extension of Reciprocal Trade Agreements for the disposition of surplus commodities; liberal Federal aid for the maintenance and construction of highways, roads and bridges; Federal Aid for schools, but strictly under State control and regulation; and discussed in detail the other planks in his platform.

He called attention to the aggressive service and leadership which he has given his district during his three terms in the State Senate and told how he sponsored and secured last year when the schools were about to close the passage of legislation giving nearly one million dollars to the schools of Alabama, thus keeping the schools open for the boys and girls of Alabama and paying the salaries of the teachers and bus drivers.

Senator Hildreth is conducting a remarkable campaign, setting the pace in the congressional race, and claims impressive gains throughout the district, particularly in Tuscaloosa county. He carries a loud speaker on his car and often makes as many as five or six speeches a day. He is carrying his message to the people in this manner and reports a fine response everywhere throughout the district.

A Personal Message

CONGRESSMAN JARMAN

To the People of Shelby County

Shelby County has always been one of my banner counties, which fact has ever caused me to feel grateful and close indeed to all of its excellent people. I have exerted my best efforts to prove worthy of your confidence by making you a good Congressman, in which I believe I have succeeded.

My committee assignments and four years seniority over anyone who might succeed me are valuable indeed to you, and I hope and believe you will wish to retain these assets by my reelection. Furthermore, I hope and believe that you will again make Shelby one of my leading counties.

It takes time to learn to be a "skilled workman"; it takes time to learn how to be more and more useful in public service. It is Democratic tradition to give a public servant ample opportunity to "grow up" in Congress. I believe my record justifies the people of my District in returning me to Congress in the faith that I will be increasingly useful to them. "Days should speak and the multitude of years teach wisdom," says the Book of Books. With the years which I hope you will entrust to me in Congress I hope to give increasing evidence of my gratitude for your loyalty by increasing usefulness.

In order to attend to your business in Washington it was necessary for me to remain there until recently. Consequently, not nearly as much time will be available for me to see you personally as I would like. I am anxious to do so and hope that I may not be denied this pleasure. Should I fail to see you, however, I know you will understand the circumstances which caused it, and exert your best efforts in my behalf. Thank you from the bottom of a very appreciative heart.

Life-Saving Class To Be Conducted By Red Cross

"On the basis of available records it is estimated that more than 7,000 persons will lose their lives by drowning in the United States this year, despite the fact that water accidents are largely unnecessary and preventable."

This statement was made today by the American Red Cross News Service, in announcing the formation of a class in life saving and water safety, to be held on the Alabama College campus.

"Although the annual total drownings has been decreased by one-third since the Red Cross Life Saving Service was organized 25 years ago, it is still far beyond all reason and represents a needless toll of death and suffering," it was stated. "Moreover, the figures do not take into account the much greater number of persons—estimated at 50 for every one drowned—who meet with near-drowning experiences. Such incidents are not only numerous and painful, but frequently so terrifying that the victims are unable to persuade themselves it is safe to attempt swimming or any kind of aquatic activity thereafter."

"The vast majority of water accidents," it is pointed out, "are the result of ignorance and lack of skill. The number of such accidents among competent swimmers is very small, and there is no disputing the fact that the person who takes part in any kind of aquatic activity is safe only in proportion to his knowledge and ability."

Mr. Ellis D. Fysal, first aid and life saving representative of the American Red Cross, has been asked to visit the college campus and conduct classes in life saving. Mr. Fysal, who has been associated with the Red Cross since 1927, has served in many capacities and is now a life saving examiner and instructor.

Rogan Is Presented With Clock By Insurance Company

Mr. F. W. Rogan, well known insurance man of Montevallo, who represents the American Eagle Fire Insurance Company, a member company of the America Fore Insurance and Indemnity Group, has just been presented by the company with an electric desk clock in commemoration of more than 25 years' representation.

A sterling silver plate on the clock is suitably inscribed with Mr. Rogan's name and company affiliation data.

The clock was given by State Agent Ed S. Harris, field man for the American Eagle, and accompanied by a letter from President Bernard M. Culver which said:

"It is with great pleasure that I and my associates welcome you into the 'Old Guard'—that association of local agents and company employees who have been connected with the companies of the America Fore Group for over twenty-five years."

"Our company has grown and prospered greatly during the period of your association with us, and we wish to acknowledge your contribution to this success."

"We thank you for your loyalty, and sincerely trust that your splendid representation of this company will continue for many years to come."

MRS. HENDRICK TO BE PRESENTED IN RECITAL

Mrs. Bob Hendrick will be presented in a piano recital in Calkins Music Hall at 8 o'clock on Wednesday, May 1. It will be followed immediately by the children's recital. Faculty, students, and townspeople are invited.

A. A. CARMICHAEL

Lieutenant - Governor A. A. Carmichael was in Montevallo last Thursday, calling on his friends and making new acquaintances. He is a candidate in the May 7 primary for one of the four places on the state-at-large delegation to the national Democratic Convention which meets in Chicago July 15.

Glee Club To Give Campus Concert

Swing music and modern classic will make up the performance of the College Glee Club in its annual campus concert, in Palmer Auditorium, Monday night, April 29, at 8 o'clock.

Previous campus programs by the Glee Club have frequently been entirely "lowbrow", and much of this concert will continue the practice. Confucius say, "The Starlit Hour", and other top rank popular songs will lead the field. Dean Bressler of the University of Alabama Glee Club will lend a male touch to the proceedings with several solos, including, "The Wind and the Rain in Your Hair".

Coming up to the more "high-brow" line is the unforgettable piano-organ arrangement of Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue", which Mr. M. Ziolkowski and Miss Ina Strom will repeat Monday night.

Other numbers on the program will include, "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair," "Sweet and Low" and numerous folk songs.

Admission charge is fifteen cents.

MRS. L. P. DYCUS

Mrs. R. P. Holcomb was called to Columbiana Tuesday morning because of the illness of her mother, Mrs. L. P. Dycus. Mrs. Dycus was rushed to a Birmingham hospital where she died Wednesday morning. Besides Mrs. Holcomb, she is survived by her husband and another daughter, Mrs. Sarah Elliott, of Jasper, and three grandchildren.

Congressman Jarman Returns to District After Voting On Cotton Insurance Bill

Congressman Pete Jarman returned to the District early this week from Washington where he had been called by farm leaders to vote and use his influence for the passage of the Bankhead-Fulmer Cotton Crop Insurance Bill. This bill passed the House last Friday by a good majority and now goes to the Senate.

Congressman Jarman thinks this bill has a good chance of passage in the senate. The House bill provides for the federal crop insurance program includes cotton, starting with 1941 crop. Present federal agricultural crop insurance program is limited to wheat. Congressman Jarman supported this bill, as he has all legislation favorable to farmers.

Mr. Jarman regretted his absence from the current campaign for re-election and again expressed his in-

Carrier Vacancy To Be Filled By Examination

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to fill the position of rural carrier at Calera. The examination will be held at Montevallo. Receipt of applications will close on May 10, 1940.

The date of examination will be stated on admission cards mailed to applicants after the close of receipt of applications, and will be about 15 days after that date. The salary of a rural carrier on a standard route of 30 miles served daily except Sunday is $1,800 per annum, with an additional $20 per mile per annum for each mile or major fraction thereof in excess of 30 miles. Certain allowances are also made for the maintenance of equipment. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of the post office where the vacancy exists, who have been actually domiciled there for six months next preceding the closing date for receipt of applications, and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form 1977. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles. Form 1977 and application blanks can be obtained from the vacancy office mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C., prior to the close of business on the date specified above. At the examination, applicants must furnish unmounted photographs of themselves taken within two years.

Community Meeting To Be A Mixture Of Fun And Learning

Fun will be combined with a demonstration of mattress making at the community meeting at the high school Friday night at 7:30. Miss Cotney, home demonstration agent, will show how a mattress can be made with cotton and ticking. The mattress making chairmen of surrounding communities are extended a special invitation to come and bring their friends.

Twenty-one games that anyone young or old, can play will provide fun for all. Have you heard of "jar gum quoits," "domino bowling," "loop tennis," "bean shootin'," "target practice," and "indoor horseshoes"? These and other games are set up for your enjoyment.

The school buses will run and carry all interested persons free of charge from Spring Creek, Boothton, Aldrich, Wilton, Dry Valley and Dogwood. Buses will leave these communities at about 7 p.m. Flag the bus and come. We will mix fun with learning.

GOVERNOR DIXON

Governor Frank M. Dixon is one of Montevallo's honored guests today, here for the dedicatory exercises of Tutwiler dormitory and Comer Hall, new buildings recently completed on the campus of Alabama College. This afternoon's program will feature addresses by Governor Dixon, Senator Lister Hill, and State Supt. Collins.

Lois Hoffman Is Honored With Party

Mrs. Ellis Hoffman entertained her little daughter, Lois, on her fourth birthday April 15.

A color scheme of pink and green was used in the decorations and refreshments. Beautiful spring cut flowers were used in the living room and dining room very effectively.

It is a joy to see a little hostess greet her guests as charmingly as little Lois did. The guests and their hostess played many games before the beautiful white cake bearing four pink candles was cut. Ice cream was served also. As the guests were leaving they were given favors of candy teddy bears and balloons.

Mrs. Sam Klotzman assisted in serving.

A., meeting in Huntsville Friday, on "Economic Beginnings of Learning in the Home." Mrs. Bickler is a member of a panel led by Mrs. John E. Hayes, vice-president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Notables Speak At Dedication Of Buildings

Speeches of Dixon, Hill, and Collins Will Be Broadcast Over Station WAPI

With the dedication of two new buildings, a concert by Nino Martini, speeches by Governor Dixon, Senator Hill, Donald Comer, Superintendent of Education A. H. Collins, and Gessner McCorvey, Thursday becomes a historic day in the annals of Alabama College.

A building program made possible by grants from the Public Works agency and loans negotiated by the board of trustees has made possible a new wing to the library, a transformed College Union Building, additions to the laboratory schools of the education department, besides the new buildings—B. B. Comer Hall, classroom, faculty office, and radio building—and Julia Studwick Tutwiler Hall, a senior dormitory.

Donald Comer will discuss the career of his father, former Governor B. B. Comer, at the morning exercises. Mr. McCorvey, a nephew

BROADCAST

In the afternoon, beginning at 2:30, the entire program will be broadcast over WAPI. This will include the addresses by Governor Frank Dixon, Senator Lister Hill, and State Superintendent Collins.

of Miss Tutwiler, will speak of her life and work for Alabama girls.

At the afternoon session Governor Dixon, Senator Hill, and Superintendent Collins will speak.

Visitors will be guided about the campus by members of the Student Senate. The seniors will be in their caps and gowns. All classwork has been suspended to permit students to take a full part in the events.

Concluding the day's events will be a concert by Nino Martini, tenor, at 8:15 p.m. in Palmer Auditorium. Mr. Martini has established himself as a motion picture and radio star as well as a distinguished operatic tenor.

Members of the Tutwiler and Comer families in Alabama will be present for the exercises in large numbers from all parts of the state. Among those who have informed college authorities that they will attend are Mrs. Anne Tutwiler and daughters of Jasper; Dr. B. F. Corley of Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. Ruffin Smith and Mr. Paoli Smith of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Braxton B. Comer, Jr., of Birmingham; Miss Jean McCorvey of Tuscaloosa; Mrs. J. Craig Smith of Birmingham; Mrs. George Johnston of Tuscaloosa; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ryding of Comer, Ala.; Mrs. B. B. Comer, Montgomery; and many others. All these relatives will be guests of the college for luncheon and at the Martini concert.

Other distinguished guests known to be coming include Mr. and Mrs. H. Clifton Pannell, Tuscaloosa; Mrs. A. Y. Malone, Dothan; Dean Eoline Wallace Moore of Birmingham-Southern College. Mrs. Moore is author of a short biography of Miss Julia Tutwiler.

MISS WOOD IS ELECTED TO STAFF OF MAGAZINE

Miss May Lyman Wood a junior from Montevallo, was selected unanimously by the Publications Board of Alabama College this week to be business manager of The Tower, a literary magazine, published exclusively by the students' own efforts. P. T. A. HOLDS MEETING

The P. T. A. held its regular meeting Tuesday evening, April 23. Mrs. F. H. Frost, president, presided over the business session. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. J. L. Appleton, program chairman, who introduced Mrs. Margaret Bickler. Mrs. Bickler led a very interesting forum. Several of the grammar school pupils took part. Questions of their likes and dislikes as to duties were asked. The responses were not given as freely as it was hoped, due largely to the big audience. It proved very interesting, however, to both parents and teachers.

Refreshments were served to a large number of members by the hostesses.

Mr. Emmett Hildreth Spoke In Clanton

Clanton, Ala., April 20—Senator Emmett Hildreth, candidate for Congress, Sixth District, wound up the week Saturday with addresses at Clanton, Jamison, and Maplesville. He delivers a straight-forward speech, setting forth his position in clear, detailed form on each of the major issues in the campaign; and the people who hear him are impressed with his sincerity, directness, and the able manner in which he states his position and his record.

Senator Hildreth continues to challenge his opponents, Mr. Jarman and Mr. Partlow, to meet him in public debate on the vital issues of the campaign, and calls attention to the fact that both Mr. Jarman and Mr. Partlow have failed to respond to this challenge.

He is carrying his message to the people in a militant, aggressive manner. He has loud speakers on his car and is speaking to the people at each village, town and city in the district. This personal campaign appeals to the people and they are giving him close attention, and show by their response approval of what he says.

Senator Hildreth is continuing to gain strength rapidly, and his aggressive, out-spoken style of campaigning is fast becoming the talk of the people throughout the district. He is recognized by all who have heard him as being one of the best and ablest speakers in political life in Alabama.

Mattress Making

One thousand and three applications for 50 pounds of cotton and 10 yards of ticking have been approved by the County AAA Committee for low income farm families. Sixty-seven bales of cotton have been received from the Memphis warehouse.

Jones' 5 and 10 cent store in Columbia is handling the mattress needles and thread. The two needles (tufting and roll edge needles) and sufficient thread for making the mattress will be 61c. Mr. Jones will fill mail orders or the mattress chairmen in each community will collect the 61c and order the needles.

All applications for the 50 pounds of cotton and 10 yards of ticking must be sent to the office of the County Agent and Home Agent by Saturday, April 27.

ZONE MEETING

The zone meeting of the Women's Society for Christian Service will meet Friday, April 26, at the Methodist Church. DAVID E. DUNN State Director

"The Least Violated Law Is the One Best Understood"

BEFORE 1940 comes to a close, those nine words will ring in the ears of every one of Alabama's 1,691 retail beer dealers who form the contact between the state's $6,000,000 beer industry and you, the public.

"I firmly believe," said Director Dunn, "that the least violated law is the one best understood and I want to have a man to man talk with every retailer personally and explain the rules and regulations of the ABC Board and the laws of public decency laid down by the brewing industry."

"For I know that when the retail beer dealer knows and understands the laws he will obey them."

Retailer meetings have been held at Mobile, Eufaula, Sheffield and Birmingham, and others will be held soon elsewhere.

The retailers at these meetings gave a rising vote of appreciation to Director Dunn, and pledged themselves to conduct law-abiding, clean and inviting places, and meet their public responsibility.

VOTE FOR Emmett Hildreth for CONGRESS

Sixth Congressional District of Alabama

Smash coercion and petty politics
when you go to the polls May 7th

Vote for Emmett Hildreth, the ablest and most capable man in the race for Congress

Let's Face the FACTS

A courageous, fighting leader for good, sound government.

Born and reared in South Alabama. Age 45.

Newsboy; worked way through high school and universities.

B. A. Degree, University of Virginia, 1917.

Graduate Master work, Sorbonne, Paris, France, 1919. LL. B., Law Degree Univ. of Alabama 1921.

Entered active practice of law in Eutaw, Ala., 1921; since actively engaged in law practice there.

Served three terms in State Senate, (Brandon, Miller and Dixon administrations).

Member Code Committee of 1923; also member 1939-40 Code Committee.

Committee assignments: Finance and Taxation; Judiciary; Constitution and Constitutional Amendments; Rules, and others.

Served 2 terms Mayor of Eutaw.

Served 2 terms member of State Democratic Executive Committee.

Delegate from Sixth Congressional District of Alabama to Democratic National Convention in Chicago, 1932.

Trustee Eutaw Grammar School for many years.

Volunteered active service in Army, 1917, and had active overseas service in France.

Legionnaire. Twice commander of Lewis-Morrow Legion Post, Eutaw Alabama.

Methodist; Mason; Member Phi Delta Phi Legal Fraternity; former Lieutenant Governor Alabama Kiwanis District; steward Eutaw Methodist Church; married; wife and two children.

Having extensive farming interests, he knows first-hand the needs and problems of the farmers.

He has a successful law practice and has attained success in business affairs.

He is ably qualified by training, proven ability and experience in public affairs to serve best the people of our District.

Emmett Hildreth has demonstrated time and again his capacity for public service. He has an outstanding record in legislative and public affairs. He has courageously, fearlessly, and untiringly fought your battles again and again. He does not play petty or personal politics. He has no job or inducement, or largess at state or federal expense to offer anyone for votes. He stands on his record. When you vote for Hildreth, you are voting for the man. He can and will give our district the aggressive, capable leadership and service to which our district is justly entitled.

Let's forget petty politics, small personal ties, pull, and favors. Let's take our position fearlessly and courageously in support of what we know to be for the best interest of our district, and vote for Emmett Hildreth for Congress.

These are serious, trying days. The people are uneasy and uncertain about the future.

We need, as never before, a level-headed, sound, well-trained, experienced man to represent our district in Congress. We must have a man of proven experience and ability who can and will fight intelligently, courageously, and fearlessly for our people, rendering to all of the people of the district at all times the service and leadership to which they are rightfully entitled.

Emmett Hildreth is a courageous, intelligent leader with a proven record in public and legislative affairs. He is an energetic, aggressive worker and knows how to get results for the people. He has made a success of his personal affairs.

We are all familiar with the successful battle that Senator Hildreth made last year in securing the passage through the legislature of a bill giving nearly one million dollars to the boys and girls of Alabama to keep the school doors open, and pay the salaries of teachers and bus drivers.

This is no time for an unseasoned or untrained congressman. Too long already we have waited for service and leadership. Our people are in dire need. Our district must have aggressive, intelligent leadership in Congress without further delay.

Emmett Hildreth is generally recognized throughout the district as being the ablest and most capable man in the race. You are on safe and sure ground when you vote for Emmett Hildreth for Congress.

Your vote and support of Emmett Hildreth for Congress will be gratefully appreciated.

Challenge To Debate

Again Senator Hildreth is consistently challenging Mr. Jarman and Mr. Partlow to debate the issues—again he receives no answer, just silence.

Again we ask, how can a man effectively represent you in the Halls of Congress if he feels unwilling or incapable of meeting a primary opponent in a debate of the issues before the people?

Congress Recognizes Jarman's Leadership And Wide Influence

Jarman Summoned To Capital For Battle Over Crop Insurance

Alabamian's Winning Way
Expected To Be Of Great
Help In Pushing Bill

BY RUSSELL KENT
Manager, The Birmingham News-
Age-Herald Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—Anticipating opposition to the bill to extend the crop insurance act to include cotton, Democratic leaders of the House this week telegraphed Representative Pete Jarman, urging him to return to Washington in advance of floor consideration of this measure.

The Sixth District member had told the leaders when he went home three weeks ago to campaign for renomination that he should return at any time he might be needed. Congressman Jarman came to Washington immediately upon receipt of the messages, which were sent him by Majority Floor Leader Rayburn and Democratic Whip Bolland.

Reaching Washington Thursday, Congressman Jarman found he had been summoned not for his vote on the measure, as he could have arranged for a pair with an opponent of the crop insurance bill, but because the House leaders felt his well-known persuasive qualities, which have been effective on previous occasions, would be valuable in smoothing away opposition to the measure in advance of the actual debate and voting.

In his service in the House, Representative Jarman has made many friends and he has gained a reputation as possessing wide influence among his fellows. In his first term as a member, he was elected chairman of the memorials committee, an unusual honor for a new representative, and at the outset of the present Congress he was elevated to the more important place of chairman of the committee on printing, and also was given an assignment to membership on the foreign affairs committee in order to help channel the administration's neutrality bill.

Congressman Jarman also had expected that, following the cotton insurance bill, the House would vote on "parity" for farmers, containing an amendment to the Agricultural

CANDIDATES

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS, SIXTH ALABAMA DISTRICT

I wish to continue representing YOU in Congress. I pledge a continuance of my best efforts to serve my District, my Party and my Nation well. I want your vote, your influence, your friendship and your cooperation. Thank you.

PETE JARMAN.

(Paid political adv. by Pete Jarman, Livingston, Ala.)

FOR DELEGATE TO NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

I hereby announce myself as a candidate from the Sixth Congressional District of Alabama to the National Convention of the Democratic Party, to be held in 1940, at such time as may be fixed by the duly authorized representatives of said party—my said candidacy to be subject to the Democratic Primary to be held in Alabama on Tuesday, May 17, 1940.

L. H. ELLIS

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS, SIXTH ALABAMA DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Representative of the Sixth Alabama District in the Congress of the United States, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary of May 7, 1940. I sincerely solicit the support of the voters of Shelby County.

W. D. (Billy) PARTLOW, JR.

(Paid political adv. by W. D. (Billy) Partlow, Jr., Tuscaloosa, Ala.)

FOR JUDGE OF PROBATE

To the Voters of Shelby County: I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of Judge of Probate of Shelby County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held on May 7, 1940.

Your support, your vote, and your influence in my behalf will be sincerely appreciated.

L. C. WALKER

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS, SIXTH ALABAMA DISTRICT

I hereby announce my candidacy for Representative in Congress from the Sixth District of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary of May 7, 1940. I sincerely solicit your vote and active support.

EMMETT HILDRETH

(Paid political adv. by Emmett Hildreth, Eutaw, Ala.)

FOR CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT

To the Voters of Shelby County: I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Clerk of the Circuit Court of Shelby County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held May 7, 1940.

Your vote and influence in my behalf will be greatly appreciated.

L. G. FULTON

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS, SIXTH ALABAMA DISTRICT

The only farmer, World War veteran candidate to represent Alabama's Sixth District in the U. S. Congress is the undersigned Democrat. All farmers could well join in urging all citizens to seize this outstanding chance to elect overwhelmingly, in the Democratic primary on May 7, 1940—perhaps not needing the primary of June 4—as your next Congressman.

THOMAS H. MAXWELL

(Paid political adv. by Thomas H. Maxwell, Tuscaloosa, Ala.)

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of Judge of the 18th Judicial Circuit of Alabama, composed of the counties of Clay, Coosa, and Shelby, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held May 7, 1940. Your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated.

W. W. WALLACE

(Paid political adv. by W. W. Wallace, Columbiana, Ala.)

Send Billy Partlow To Congress

He will give the Sixth District courageous, aggressive representation by a man identified with the common lot and in sympathy with the average man

As your Congressman he will advocate:

★ For the FARMERS

The continuation of reciprocal trade agreements and subsidy payments to achieve 100 per cent parity between industry and agriculture; low-cost, long-term financing of farm property; the soil conservation program; crop insurance; rural electrification, and the continuation of our present federal farm program.

★ For the VETERANS

Continued fair treatment at the hands of the country with adequate protection for the welfare of veterans, their widows and orphans.

★ For the SCHOOLS

Federal aid for schools without federal supervision or control of the funds allotted.

★ For the LABORERS

The preservation of the gains that labor has made under the recent federal legislative program and the continued application of the fundamental principles on which that program is based; fair treatment of labor, including the principles of collective bargaining and the payment of reasonable wages for a reasonable period of work.

★ For the NATION

Peace at all times, friendly commerce with foreign nations and the maintenance of adequate defensive armament; equalization of freight rates; maintenance of a sound currency and secure public credit and a reduction in the expenses of government.

Firmly believing that such representation in Congress will help the Sixth District to secure the benefits of a period of progress unsurpassed in all its history, we urge you to

Send Billy Partlow to Congress on May 7th

(Paid pol. adv. by Friends of Billy Partlow.)

Drink More Milk for Better Health

Milk supplies the vital food elements necessary to health. Our milk and cream is delivered fresh every day. The date and the name on the cap is your guarantee that the milk and cream you receive is absolutely pure and fresh.

Also for your protection our milk is most carefully handled from producer to consumer. For 23 years we have been engaged in the dairy business in this community. During this time our cows and milk have been approved by milk inspectors for the federal and state health authorities, the city of Birmingham and Shelby County.

We have enjoyed a fine business with the people of Montevallo and we assure you that our efforts in the future will be continued to serve you in the manner you want and deserve.
